

Wicks, Heiselman Deny Kickback Link Ave Approval Seen for GOP Jobless Pay

Increases Benefits Up to $45

Vote Due Later on Time Extension

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman apparently plans to sign the Republicans' "compromise" bill for raising unemployment insurance benefits.

It will boost maximum weekly benefits from $36 to $45, retroactive to last July 1, when previous bills Harriman vetoed would have taken effect.

Democrats Get Go-Ahead

Democrats in both Houses of the Legislature, who had voted solidly against three earlier measures, had a go-ahead signal to vote for the revised version when it came up for action today.

They said they had been told that the Democratic governor planned to accept it as the best he could get from the Republican majorities.

The revised version softens GOP rider provisions that promoted him to reject three jobless-pay bills in the last 11 months.

The Republicans also plan to pass legislation later to extend from 26 to 39 weeks the maximum period for collecting benefits.

Says Ave Tagging Along

Harriman called for this step yesterday and pointed to mounting unemployment to justify the move. He said that if present conditions continued many persons would exhaust their benefits.

Assembly Majority Leader Joseph Carlino said, however, that the GOP already was drafting legislation and that Harriman was just "tagging along."

On other legislative fronts: 1. GOP legislative leaders called on Harriman to take a stand on legislation to clamp state controls on union financial practices.

Continues Abatement

2. The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a bill continuing for another year the $1,700,000 tax abatement—up to $35 apiece—for unincorporated businesses. Harriman had asked for the measure and is certain to sign it.

The new version of the jobless-pay bill cuts by about 15 per cent (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Good, Drawbacks Of Zoning Told

Arguments can be made for and against zoning ordinances, Attorney Paul Samuels of Poughkeepsie, former state commander of the American Legion, told the Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association at its regular monthly meeting in Cyprus Inn Wednesday night.

He said he was not in favor of zoning ordinances where communities are not well developed, pointing out that as the area grows no one knows whether it will remain residential or industrial.

He said that the ordinance for the town of Lathrop south of Poughkeepsie had been so cut up and changed since it was adopted that the original map can hardly be recognized.

He said that a town only 14 per cent developed does not require a zoning ordinance.

The greatest danger in zoning, he said, is to take bare fields and restrict certain areas for homes, business or industry.

He said he felt a type of "spot zoning" might be effective in a township similar to Ulster. Zoning restricts the owners of property in the use of their property, he said.

Not Answer to Progress

Samuels said zoning restrictions would stand up in court providing the surrounding land did not change in character. He told the association that zoning is not the answer to progress.

He said, however, that a zoning ordinance may be amended, modified or repealed.

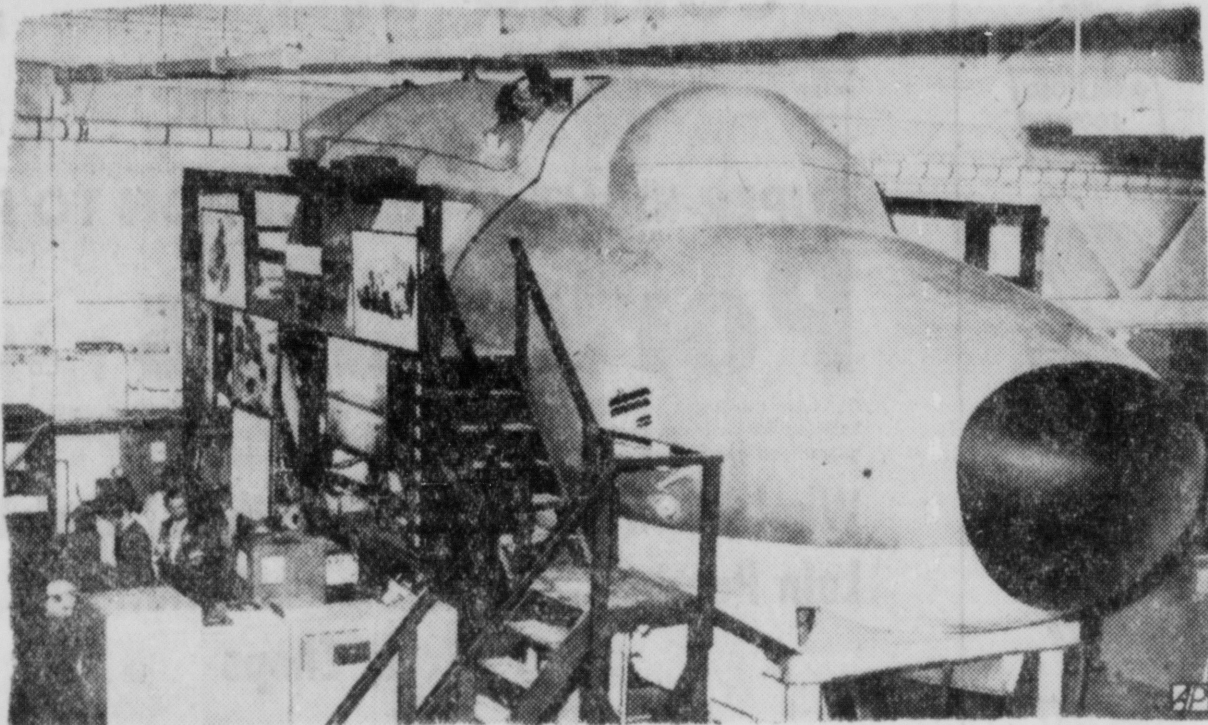

Samuels estimated the annual cost of enforcing a zoning ordinance at $20,000, based on experience in other communities.

No Industry Magnet

He said he didn't see how zoning would help bring industry to the township because industry likes to choose its sites.

The advantages of an ordinance to a developed community are substantial, he pointed out, spot zoning better for other areas.

Ted Musialkiewicz is president of the association. The vice-president, Arthur Royael, presided last night.

At bottom left are the control panels used in the test. Stairway is used by cameramen to check and reload the cameras mounted in sealed portholes. Tax Relief as Stimulant

Proposed Cut May Add $2-$3 to Week's Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—An income tax cut of the sort now under consideration in Congress would add an extra $2 to $3 to the weekly pay check of the average American breadwinner.

In the aggregate, it would mean the quick addition of an estimated five billion dollars of new consumer buying power.

Now Under Study

This immediate release of new buying power is the primary goal of tax planners seeking a quick anti-recession stimulant.

Whether a tax cut actually will be attempted has not been decided. But it is one of several things under study.

Congressional tax experts say that any tax cut would be reflected immediately in the form of fatter employee paychecks because of lower tax withholdings.

More to Spend

Self-employed individuals, who pay their taxes quarterly, would be able to give themselves a tax credit equal to the percentage cut when mailing their next quarterly tax installment to the tax collector.

For the individual taxpayer, the cut in tax withholding would mean more money in his pocket—theoretically to buy beefsteak, make a down payment on a new sofa or plan for expenditures he hadn't been able to afford.

The greatest impact of an overall individual income tax cut would be on the low and middle income taxpayer.

Average Around $5,500

More than half the nation's 48 million individual taxpayers have gross incomes of under $5,000; with the average income per family around $5,500.

The plan under serious consideration by House leaders would cut from 20 per cent to 15 per cent the tax on the first $1,000 of taxable income—in effect a 25 per cent cut there. A 5 per cent cut would be provided in all other personal income tax rates.

If enacted, this cut would mean another $2 of weekly spendable income for the average married taxpayer with two dependents who earns $5,000 a year.

For the taxpayer in the $10,000 income bracket, the tax saving is estimated in the neighborhood of $3 a week.

Aid for Business

The economy probably would feel less immediate effect from a cut in business income taxes. But tax planners say that business would be in a favorable position to plan ahead at an expanded rate on the basis of future lower tax costs.

Reductions in the rates of selected excise (sales) taxes would take effect immediately. For a prospective new car owner, proposed repeal of the 10 per cent automobile manufacturers tax would make possible a saving of around $125 to $150 on one of the popular lower-priced makes.

Major automobile companies have said they will pass on to purchasers any savings from reduction or repeal of the automobile tax.

Also, elimination or reduction of the 3 per cent transportation tax on freight might result in lower consumer prices as well as benefiting the transportation industry.

Consolidation Forum Tonight

Four speakers, including a representative of the State Education Department, will be heard during the first of three public forums on consolidation at Kingston High School Auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

The speakers include: Francis Griffin, chief of the Bureau of Rural Administrative Services, State Education Department, Albany; Dr. Harold Hager, superintendent of schools, Oneonta; Dr. Charles Hunt, past president of Oneonta State Teachers' College and Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston city schools.

The forums have been arranged to bring out the various phases of the program relative to participation by the City of Kingston. Rural voters on March 5 favored the proposed Greater Kingston Area School Consolidation Plan by a 3 to 1 vote.

A referendum for city voters is scheduled April 2.

Brundage Quits As Budget Head, Stans Gets Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Percival F. Brundage resigned today as director of the budget.

President Eisenhower appointed Maurice H. Stans, now deputy director, to succeed Brundage.

Eisenhower also named Robert E. Merriam, currently an assistant to the director, as deputy chief of the bureau.

Personal Reasons

In a letter to Eisenhower made public by the White House Brundage said he is stepping down because he "must attend to some personal matters that have been neglected."

His resignation is effective on or about March 15—two days from now.

Replying to a question, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said "of course not" when asked whether Brundage was leaving because of any fiscal policy differences with the administration at this time of business recession.

Eisenhower accepted Brundage's resignation "with great regret and reluctance."

On Job Since 1956

Brundage has served as budget director since April 2, 1956. Eisenhower chose him to succeed Rowland R. Hughes.

Brundage had been deputy director since May 1954. Before that he was a senior partner in the Price Waterhouse accounting firm.

Hearing March 20 On Abandoning Trains

ALBANY (AP)—The Public Service Commission today scheduled a public hearing for next Thursday here to reconsider the New York Central Railroad's petition to abandon passenger operations on its West Shore division.

In September 1956 the PSC authorized the Central to drop 10 trains but ordered the railroad to continue all others, mostly commuter trains operating in the lower Hudson Valley area.

The railroad has petitioned for reconsideration of the decision. Commissioner Richard H. Balch will preside.

Special Commissioner Proposed by Radel to Hear Police Testimony

Statements amounting to pre-judgment of police department personnel in conjunction with the Reuter and other probes have been made by certain members of the police board, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said in a statement today, in which he proposes possible use of a special "hearing commissioner."

"It is my feeling," the mayor said, "that certain members now serving on the Board of Police Commissioners, who have made statements, and have been quoted publicly several times, have, in effect, prejudged certain individuals, who may be involved, and also have prejudged the value and accuracy of the Reuter report, and the April 1957 grand jury presentation."

The mayor said further: "I find it extremely difficult to believe that anyone, who has so prejudged a problem so serious as this, could possibly serve the best interest of the city, and the best interest of the police department in participating personally in the conduct of departmental trials."

The mayor's statement followed a Tuesday meeting of the police board, which, he said, was called "for the specific purpose of discussing the avenues of approach to dealing with certain individuals now on the Kingston police department, who may have been involved in wrong doing to greater or lesser degree as indicated in the report of the Reuter Commission and the April, 1957 Grand Jury presentation."

The grand jury, mentioned, although known as the April grand jury, sat later in the year.

A main feature of the meeting was the appearance of Walter A. Caddell, noted attorney of Ossining, who, the mayor said was called in "to evaluate the possibility of using the 'hearing commissioner' method of solving this problem."

Under the plan, he said, "a competent, qualified attorney could be hired by the City of Kingston to conduct hearings, determine the guilt or innocence of individuals involved, and recommend appropriate action to the Board of Police Commissioners."

Another factor involved, besides possible prejudgment by certain police board members, Mayor Radel said, "is that several commissioners had a part in selecting and promoting some of the policemen, who may be involved in the departmental trials. It will be difficult, and awkward for these commissioners to now question individuals, who, they, themselves, have been responsible for placing and promoting in the department."

With this "general picture in mind," the mayor said, "it is my feeling that the designation of a hearing commissioner or trial commissioner would be an ideal solution to the problem we are about to face, not only from the standpoint of these several commissioners, who have placed themselves in a questionable position, but even more important, from the standpoint of the citizens and police department in general."

Keresman's View
Peter Keresman, of 69 Florence Street, secretary of the New York State Police Conference, the mayor indicated, through a recent public statement, shares a similar view. He quoted Keresman as saying: "It would not be possible to recreate confidence in the reorganized department, if these hearings were conducted by the police board, the same authority which passed upon the qualifications or activities of the men involved."

Mayor Radel expressed gratitude to Attorney Caddell "for (Continued on Page 30, Col. 7)

Declare Reuter Is Smearing Wicks Facing No Charge: Harriman

NEW YORK (AP)—State Investigation Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter charges that Arthur H. Wicks, former Republican State Senate majority leader and acting lieutenant governor, received kickbacks from official purchases in his home county of Ulster.

Reuter also named Conrad Heiselman, a Wicks employee, former Republican mayor of Kingston and former president of the New York State Mayors Assn.

Both Make Denials

Wicks and Heiselman denied Reuter's allegations when reached at Wicks' estate at Pompano Beach, Fla., last night.

Wicks said: "There's nothing to it." He said he had no idea how he could have been linked with kickbacks.

Heiselman said: "If that isn't a smear, I don't know what is. That is absolutely a lie. There is not one vestige of truth in it. I've got a reputation in my community as being an outstanding man. If any public official ever bent over backwards, I did."

Affidavit to Court

Reuter named Wicks and others in an affidavit submitted yesterday to State Supreme Court Justice Benedict D. Dineen concerning Austin Boyd Jr. and Morgan Ryan, Kingston businessmen.

Harriman Surprised

Gov. Harriman said he was "surprised as anybody" at Reuter's announcement concerning Wicks.

Harriman told a news conference he first learned of the move from press reports last night and directed aides to look into it this morning.

Harriman emphasized that Reuter had made no charges against Wicks.

The Republican leader's name came up, Harriman said, when Reuter asked a witness—Ryan—whether he made payments to Wicks. Ryan took the Fifth Amendment, Reuter said.

Reuter, who is investigating kickback allegations in a number of Eastern New York counties, said in the affidavit that Ryan pleaded the Fifth Amendment 37 times when questioned about "his payments to 19 town highway officials in Ulster County as well as to Conrad Heiselman and Arthur Wicks."

No Comment

Ryan, reached at his home at Kingston, had no comment on the affidavit.

Wicks was not immediately available for comment.

Wicks, who is one of the most prominent figures named in Reuter's numerous investigations, was forced out as acting lieutenant governor in 1953 following revelation of visits to Joseph Fay, labor leader and extortionist, in Sing Sing Prison.

Thomas E. Dewey, Republican governor at the time, put the heat on Wicks.

Wicks, one of a number of prominent politicians and officials who visited Fay at the prison, said he did so in efforts to preserve labor peace in his state senatorial district. Wicks is a former Ulster County Republican chairman.

Asks Answers or Jail

Wicks was named by Reuter as the commissioner obtained a court order calling on Boyd to show cause next Tuesday why he should not be jailed until he answers certain questions about kickbacks.

Boyd is a vice president of the Lansell Corp., a road supplies firm. The court order calls on Boyd to show cause why he should not also be fined for at least $200.

Small Business May Get Tax Lift

ALBANY (AP)—New York State's small businesses may get another $1,700,000 tax abatement this year.

The Assembly today passed unanimously a bill continuing the maximum $35 reduction allowed unincorporated businesses last year.

After computing their tax at the full rate, they are allowed to deduct 15 per cent of the first $100 due and 10 per cent of the next $200.

The measure was sent to the Senate for final approval.

Gov. Harriman is certain to sign it. He recommended renewing the abatement in his budget message.

Mental Health Conference Is Slated April 24

A welcoming address by Governor Averell Harriman on April 24 will open the spring meeting of the Northeast State Governments Conference on Mental Health.

Harriman, as governor of the host state of the three-day session, will greet more than 35 conference delegates at 9:30 a. m. at the Henry Hudson Hotel, New York City. The delegates, from 10 northeastern states, will convene from April 23 to 25 to discuss aspects of community mental health under the theme, "Perspectives in State Mental Health Programs."

Dr. Dale C. Cameron, director of the Division of Mental Health and Medical Care, Minnesota State Department of Public Welfare, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Cameron will address the group following Governor Harriman's welcoming remarks. Dr. Paul H. Hoch, New York State Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, will be the dinner speaker that evening.

Chairman of the conference executive committee is Arthur Funke, director of the Division of Child Health Services, Mental Health Section, Vermont Department of Health. Dr. B. R. Hutcherson, Director of Clinical Research, Division of Mental Hygiene, Massachusetts Department of Health, is chairman of the program committee.

Representatives of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Council of State Governments also participate in conference activities.

Tillson

No Fires Reported Last Month in This District

TILLSON—There were no fires in the Tillson Fire District during the last month, Chief L. Dyer reported at the monthly meeting of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company Tuesday evening. Nominations for officers to be elected next month at the annual meeting, to serve for the coming term, were made. However, additional nominations will be accepted prior to election at the April meeting.

A number of rules, offered in February by the executive committee, were discussed and accepted to be effective immediately. The subject of membership and dues was discussed, and it was reported that members not having paid dues by the April meeting will not be considered an active, "paid-up" member. It was disclosed that any fireman who is not an active paid up member is not eligible for compensation insurance if injured while fighting a fire. The financial secretary Thomas Morris, prior to the annual meeting, will accept payment of the current year's dues.

A list of the rules adopted at the meeting will be mailed to each member of the company, and a list will be posted on the company bulletin board.

The fire company plans offer some sort of recreation program for teen-age boys. A committee consisting of George Popp, Vincent Carroll and Peter Benincasa will study the problem and the facilities available. Parents of boys 13 to 16 years of age may be asked for help and suggestions.

It was reported that the Township of Rosendale Volunteer Firemen's Association would meet Tuesday, March 25, at the Tillson Firehall.

Following the business session, refreshments were served.

Baptism of Fire

WOOD RIVER, Ill. (AP)—This city's new refuse truck was literally christened "under fire." The department accompanied it to the dump after a fire broke out in a load of trash. City Manager A. Kraft said the only damage to the unit was a scorched top.

Indians Must Leave Land by April 1

FONDA (AP)—The Montgomery County judge has set April 1 as the deadline for 45 Mohawk Indians to get off land they occupy along the Thruway.

Farmer Elmer T. Buckman and William H. Dufel own the land near Fort Hunter and are entitled to an eviction order, Judge Chandler S. Knight said yesterday. Knight said he was giving the Mohawks until April 1 because of the number of women and children involved.

The Indians moved from a northern reservation onto the property last spring and claimed it was theirs under an ancient treaty.

Buckman and Dufel recently moved to have the Indians evicted.

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State unemployment benefit claims rose to 442,000 last week, Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin reported last night.

Lubin said new claims increased from 61,089 the previous week to 65,020. He attributed the major rise to new layoffs in automobile plants and other heavy industry. Benefit payments for last week totaled $12,943,224, twice the sum recorded a year ago. Lubin gave the total since the first of the year as $94,396,882, as compared with the 1957 figure of $58,330,112.

Special Series on Consolidation

Kingston's Role Under Enlarged School Plan

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on the Greater Kingston School District plan. Today's article discusses how neighboring areas may consolidate under the "Community of Interest" Concept. Residents of Kingston will vote on this important educational step Wednesday, April 2.)

The educational laws of New York State have always intended that changes in school district reorganization should be possible. State policy has been clearly directed to this end. At times, however, district reorganization has not been readily secured.

The Common School Act of 1812 and the Union Free Act of 1853 were landmarks in this progress. The Central School Law of 1914 and the 1925 amendment laid the groundwork for the formation of central districts based on the "community of interest" concept to provide educational programs for all pupils from kindergarten through high school. The 477 operating central school districts clearly indicate the soundness of this type of organization.

Under 1952 Law

The possibilities of reorganization were further extended to the rural and suburban areas outside our cities by the enactment of the Enlarged City School District Law of 1952, which continues the "community of interest" concept. Now for the first time such areas may join with the neighboring city school system where their grade school children have attended for many years. Moreover, following consolidation, residents from these areas may, for the first time, serve on the board of education and have a voice in the educational policy of that school system.

This law authorizes the Commissioner of Education to lay out an area or areas contiguous to a city school district of a city of less than 125,000 population for the purpose of forming an enlarged city school district.

The Commissioner may act at his discretion in laying out such an area for the purpose of initiating consolidation. The practice of requiring informative petitions from districts undergoing reorganization has been followed rather generally throughout the years and it is to be anticipated that this practice will be continued even though it is not required by law. The city board of education must at that time provide the Commissioner of Education with a certified copy of a resolution consenting to the proposed consolidation.

After the Commissioner has laid out the area or areas for the purpose of forming the enlarged city school district, the voters of the area may petition to have a vote on the proposition to be joined with the city. This petition must be signed by a number of qualified voters equal to at least 10 per cent of the number of children in the area listed on the last school census. This petition requesting a meeting to vote on the proposition to consolidate must be filed with the Commissioner who is thereupon obliged within 30 days to call a special meeting for the area voters. The Commissioner specifies the time and place for this special meeting. Notices must be posted at least 10 days before the meeting in three conspicuous places in each school district included in the order. In addition, a copy of the notice must be published at least three days before the meeting in a daily or weekly newspaper published within the area or having general circulation within the area.

Must Be Ballot Vote

A school official or a qualified voter of the area designated by the Commissioner for the purpose calls the meeting to order. The first order of business is to elect a chairman and a clerk who are qualified voters. Persons qualified to vote in any school district within the area laid out by the Commissioner are qualified to vote at this meeting. The affirmative vote of a majority of the qualified voters present and voting is required for the adoption of the proposition to consolidate the area with the city school district. The vote must be by ballot. Copies of the minutes of the meeting certified by the clerk are filed by him with the Commissioner, with the board of education of the city school district and with each superintendent of schools and town clerk having jurisdiction.

The expense of posting and publishing of the notice calling the meeting is a charge upon the enlarged city school district if the consolidation finally is consummated. Otherwise the expense becomes a charge equally upon the several school districts included within the area.

Must Give Date

If the proposition to consolidate the area with the city school district is adopted, the commissioner may thereupon issue an order consolidating the area with the city school district. The order must specify a date on which the consolidation will take effect. A copy of the order must be filed with the clerk of each school district included in the consolidation.

As the terms of board members holding office at the time of consolidation expire, the succeeding members are elected at annual school elections from the enlarged city school district.

While the law does not expressly require it, it is understood that such consolidation will be made effective July 1 whenever possible. However, if the effective date of the order of consolidation does not coincide with the beginning of the fiscal year of the city school district, the board of education must levy a tax upon the area consolidated with the city school district. This levy is to defray the expenses of educating the pupils of the area outside the city from the effective date of the consolidation to the beginning of the next ensuing fiscal year of the city school district. For this purpose, the school tax rate used for the fiscal year of the city school district on the effective date of the order is used. The rate is divided by 12 and multiplied by the number of months remaining between the effective date of the order and the beginning of the next ensuing fiscal year of the city school district. The tax list for this purpose must be prepared and confirmed within 30 days after the effective date of the consolidation.

In any enlarged city school district so created, taxes must be equalized between the city and towns on the basis of equalization rates established by the State Tax Commission for the city and the town or towns included.

More State Aid

In order to assure that enlarged city school districts make provision for transportation, school building requirements and services and facilities for public school pupils from the outside area, the enlarged city school districts will receive added State aid in addition to other apportionments of public money received. The Commissioner of Education will undoubtedly not lay out an enlarged city school district unless firm assurances are given by the city board of education that adequate transportation will be furnished students residing outside the city school district.

A 1955 amendment to the City School Act has substantially increased the added State aid provided on account of consolidation. This added State aid is paid on a basis of the former districts considered individually from the effective date of the consolidation. It is equivalent to the sum of $200 for each public school pupil, not exceeding 400 pupils for each district, residing in the outside area on the day preceding the effective date of consolidation, less a deduction of $1.50 on each $1,000 of actual valuation of taxable property in the former district. The assessment roll last completed prior to the effective date of consolidation will be used in the determination. However, in any district included in such an area, having more than 400 resident public school pupils, the amount of such deduction is multiplied by 400 and divided by the actual number of resident public school pupils. In computing the number of resident public school pupils in grades kindergarten through grade 12, kindergarten enrollment equals one-sixth of the enrollment of grades 1 through 6 inclusive.

The Bureau of School Administrative Services studies, with local school officials and interested lay people, all aspect of the enlarged city school district much the same as studies have been conducted over many years for the formation of central school districts. Such studies include the instructional program, building needs, transportation and a long-term financial plan to estimate operational costs.

Sixteen Approved

Since the passage of the Enlarged City School Law, the Bureau has studied 16 of the 30 cities which are eligible under this act, with more than 300 lay people participating. Sixteen enlarged city school districts have been approved.

PRE-SUMMIT MANEUVERS

There can be no doubt that to millions in Europe and other areas, the idea of another summit conference has more appeal than ever. This makes it increasingly difficult for the United States to keep insisting on the pre-condition of a useful preparatory meeting.

Our measure of a useful preliminary is one in which the issues themselves are explored to determine which, if any, might be worth talking about at the top level. That is why we consider inadequate the Russian proposal for a foreign ministers' meeting devoted merely to fixing a time, a place, a list of participants and a list of agenda topics.

To us this is nothing more than stage managing which does not get to the heart of the problem. We fear that a summit session not founded on suitable exploration of the issues will prove unproductive of real results, could give Russia a propaganda triumph and sadly mislead a hopeful world.

Probably we worry too much about the propaganda aspect. Many think we ought to have more confidence in our ability to outdo the Soviet Union in this regard.

But our concern on other counts would seem to be wise. It would be most unfortunate for the world to gain a false image of promise from a tableau of smiles and hand-shaking and smooth but empty talk at the summit.

Attitudes and postures are not the substance of which peace is made, though if honestly taken they can be indicative of results to come. So far in the Cold War, however, the Russians have given us no evidence of honest purpose in their efforts for "peace."

Peoples yearning for tranquility are inclined to forget that it cannot be declared by magic by smiling principals sitting around a table.

Peace is hammered out by a tough-minded attack upon the real issues that separate hostile governments. In this time, those include the future unity of Germany, the question of free elections in satellite East Europe, Russia's relentless non-shooting war on all fronts against free peoples everywhere, the need for truly enforceable disarmament.

Ckprep eval?cmihp sal ggSt

The Kremlin's reaction to President Eisenhower's last letter to Premier Bulganin, which raised some of these points, is not encouraging. Evidently Moscow wants a summit convale which will studiously avoid the issues.

Citizens fearful of the fruits of a continuing East-West struggle must understand that their fears cannot really be calmed by a meeting which would be all show and no substance.

The elopement technique in which the bride-to-be descends a ladder seems obsolescent, if not entirely out of date. From now on the bridegroom will hover in a helicopter and whisk his bride off into the wild blue yonder.

IN A SOUND BODY

In most public schools, burly lads get plenty of opportunity to develop their muscles further by completing for the glory of the school. Less athletic boys—again, in most schools, with some happy exceptions—find themselves on the sidelines in team competition and often receive only desultory physical training.

This is comparable to giving pupils with a high intelligence quotient plenty of mental exercise and providing only the most trivial classroom work for the less brainy majority. That would not be considered proper schooling. By the same token, giving only the huskiest boys adequate physical training is neither fair nor wise. The schools should strive to see that as many as possible reach the old Greek ideal of a sane (read cultivated, well-balanced) mind in a sound body.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE DOCTORS

Recognizing that half a century ago one who had my physical troubles did not long survive them, how can I worry about the fact that doctors, like the rest of us, charge for their services? When I have quarrelled with them, it has not been about the bills. Considering that I am alive and able to do my work every day, as thousands of others are who have heart ailments, I am sure that an undertaker would have charged more with less satisfactory results.

I write this because I have been reading a general condemnation of doctors as a class. That is about as sensible as condemning lawyers, clergymen, teachers, businessmen or labor leaders as a class. Even in my own profession, there are persons who are not so perfect. Of course, there are bad apples among them, just as Lucifer was once an angel. But if we are to generalize, with-out prejudice, the medical profession, on the whole, has done more for humanity, on a smaller return, than any other professional group.

If the medical staff of our hospitals had to be paid wages for all the work the physicians and surgeons do free of charge, on the assumption that they are everlastingly learning and that in their profession the best way to learn is by doing—no hospital would have sufficient funds to operate.

One day I needed a doctor urgently. The man who came was young, engaging, obviously starting life. He charged me a few dollars. He became our family doctor. The years pass and this doctor decides that he wants to work in an experimental field. He takes a year off, actually depriving himself and his family of income. He writes a book, becoming a specialist and devoting the greatest share of his waking time to continued experimental work.

When I was in the hospital, I realized how much time he spent with his rats in the laboratory. I was then not his patient but a friend. I had been handed over to strangers whom I did not know but I can say this that the great man who was brought in to determine whether I was alive or dead and who, my wife told me, stayed two and a half hours before it could be decided, only charged $100 for the visit. Had a wrong diagnosis been made that night, I would now be kicking up crocuses in a cemetery. My troubles were like that. I know a country general practitioner who does at least 100 miles a day in his car, summer or winter, in heat or in snow. I have known him to drive a suffering man 18 or 20 miles to a hospital at 80 or 90 miles an hour, once burning out the motor of a new car to do it. I have known him during the winter to motor to a university 40 or 50 miles away to take a refresher course, let us say, concerning the heart, so that he can take care of the summer patients some of whom have heart troubles. The farmers pay him what they can. Sometimes they pay in things they grow because money is scarce. Some do not pay at all. The town contributes a certain amount, very small, because he is the town health officer. So highly is he regarded that some summer patients insist upon paying New York rates. He is a competent man.

Why have I had such good fortune to encounter men who have not charged me more than their services were worth? Compare the total cost of cigarettes or cosmetics or pleasures during the year to the charge of a surgeon who every time he has to cut a stomach knows that the risk is extraordinarily great and that each operation takes a toll of his own nervous system. For every doctor knows that while the operation may be a success, the patient may die of side causes.

Whenever I am in a hospital, I am a trying patient because I am in a hurry to get back to my normal life. Also there are procedures and habits in this profession which irk me. Also I hate hospital food. But let us face it: I am alive because a few dedicated human beings work day and night to discover how to keep such as me alive. To me, their services are cheap at any price, for death is final and it is finally expensive. It takes all. Let those who complain of bills look to their own charges.

★ Dr. Jordan Says ★

Uremia Is Failure of Body To Eliminate Toxic Wastes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

H. F. asks for a discussion of uremia, from which he says he is a sufferer.

This term, or "uremic poisoning," is used to describe a condition in which waste materials are accumulated in the blood and body tissues because of the failure to eliminate them normally through the kidneys.

Usually uremia is the result of some kind of kidney failure, such as a long-lasting Bright's disease or nephritis. Occasionally it results from shock, severe loss of fluid from the body as in long-continued vomiting or watery diarrhea, or from some other unusual condition.

A diagnosis can be made only after the blood has been examined chemically to find out whether the poisonous substances are actually increased there. This chemical examination of the blood also helps to decide what treatment to use and what the outcome is likely to be.

Tests of the urine and careful examinations of the functioning of the kidneys are also necessary before a complete diagnosis can be made and proper treatment started.

THE SYMPTOMS cannot be easily described. A vague "toxic" condition is the rule. Uremia usually develops slowly, however. Victims of uremia are especially susceptible to infections.

Treatment depends on what is preventing the elimination of poisonous wastes and how far it has progressed.

The best time to attack uremia, of course, is long before the uremia has developed. If the Bright's disease or other cause of uremia can be prevented the condition will not develop.

Some cases of Bright's disease leading eventually to uremia are the result of acute infections, such as pneumonia or scarlet fever. Hence, prompt attack on such infections by sulfa drugs or antibiotics ought to prevent some cases from developing at all.

Uremia is really a late complication resulting from one of several disorders and is not a disease of itself.

IN RECENT YEARS many studies have been made of mechanical devices going under the name of "artificial kidney."

Several kinds of apparatus have been employed, but they all have the purpose of removing from the blood those toxic or poisonous substances which have accumulated there because of the failure of the kidneys to remove them.

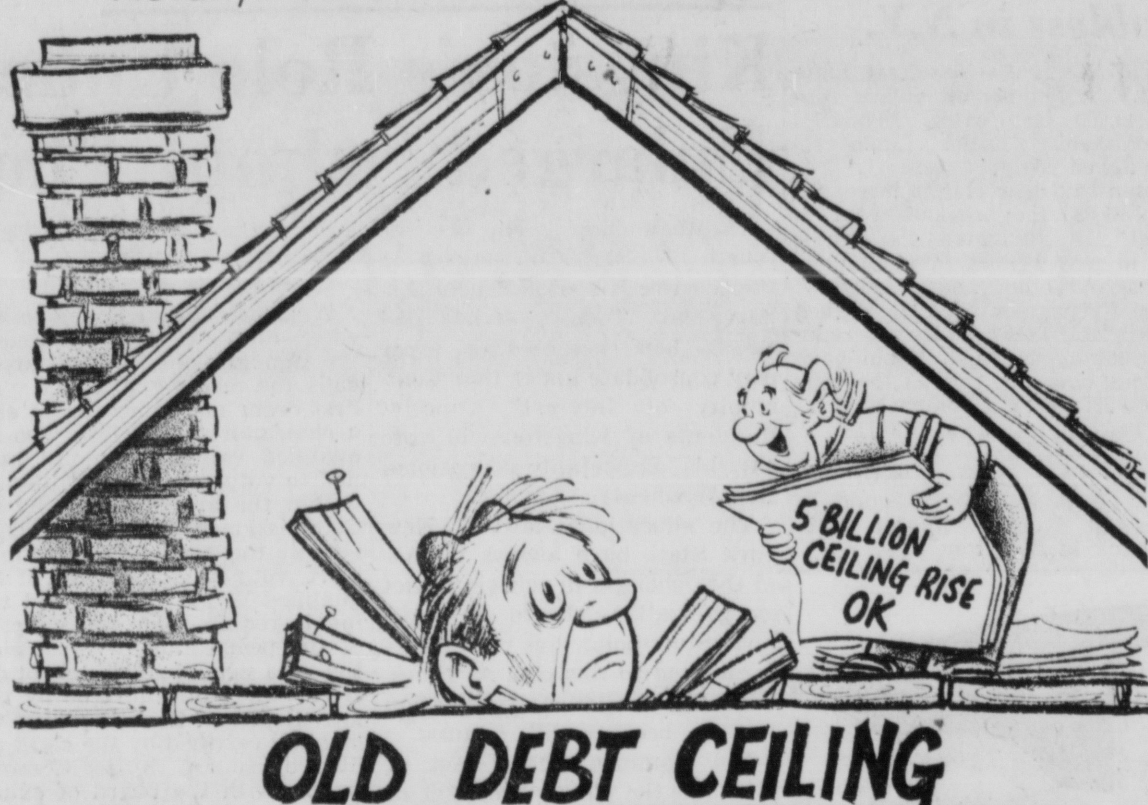

Quite remarkable results have sometimes been accomplished by this means of treatment. They have been used also for certain kinds of poisoning with such substances as barbiturates, bromides or salicylates.

They cannot, of course, be considered as substitutes for a normally functioning kidney, but their development has proved a real boon for some critically ill patients.

This is a land of opportunity, all right, but opportunity is not always to be found under the bright lights.

"Relax, We'll Put the New One in Soon"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Senate Judiciary Committee hearings began the other day on two important bills introduced by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.).

One would bar unauthorized disclosure of certain information by employees of government regulatory agencies. The other would prohibit improper pressure from outside sources on the supposedly independent government commissions.

The first of these bills grew out of a recent leak on a pending Civil Aeronautics case. The second grew out of Federal Communications Commission scandals uncovered by ex-Counsel Bernard Schwartz of a special House committee.

The obvious need for legislation such as is proposed in the two Jackson bills is disclosed by a survey of these independent agencies made by NEA Service. It shows few commissions have any rules at all to check the exercise of undue influence by congressmen or other interested parties on what are, or should be, quasi-judicial proceedings.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD "Principles of Practice," adopted in 1951, do prohibit improper influence on its decision-making procedures by anyone.

An improper practice is defined as any effort to comment on the merits of a pending case before any member of the Board or its staff. It is deemed improper for anyone to try to sway or influence the decision of a hearing examiner or a member of the Board on his findings.

Only last year CAB had occasion to exercise this power in a letter of reprimand to Eastern Airlines. EAL was charged with urging some of its stockholders to write government officials in an effort to build up pressure for a CAB decision which would be favorable to this company.

Securities and Exchange Commission has no rules and there is no provision in its law barring congressional interference in its proceedings, but this is said to be a good bit of mail from congressmen. Most of these letters are routine inquiries on the progress of pending applications and licenses.

WHEN SEC STARTS INVESTIGATING anyone for fraudulent practice, it is natural for him to run to his congressman for help. The congressman tries to give his constituent service and writes a letter of inquiry. SEC answers. Often that ends it.

There has been only one SEC case in recent years in which congressional pressure may have been exercised. This was during the Penn Texas-Fairbanks Morse proxy fight.

This was an administrative case, not a judicial matter. While SEC was investigating it, a Senate Interstate Commerce Subcommittee under Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) began parallel hearings. Propriety of the congressional investigation was questioned because of its timing.

Federal Trade Commission and Interstate Commerce Commission, two of the oldest regulatory agencies, are credited with having the best established codes for ethical conduct.

FTC has strict internal regulations for all of its own employees, to prevent conflicts of interest.

FTC GETS PRESSURE from Congress because the Commission has no licenses to grant. It is more of a law enforcement agency. FTC does get hundreds of complaints on unfair trade practices. Many of these are sent to congressmen by their constituents and these are relayed to the Commission. This is considered an entirely proper service function.

ICC has a Code of Ethics for practitioners before it, adopted in the 1930s. This code declares flatly that it is unethical to attempt to enlist the influence or intercession of a member of Congress or other public officials, by threat of political or personal reprisal.

In years past there may have been some cases in which members of Congress may have tried to influence ICC cases. The Commission's practice is to send a formal reply saying that this interference is improper.

Such interference can have the effect of prejudicing the Commission against the congressman's interest in some agencies.

Composer Irving Berlin was born in 1888.

WALLKILL NEWS

$500 Is Collected Here For Heart Fund Sunday

WALLKILL — Five hundred dollars was collected on Heart Sunday in the Wallkill area. Co-chairmen for the campaign, Mrs. John D. Scanzello and Mrs. William Crans, made their report at a meeting of volunteers held Monday evening at the American Legion Home in Wallkill. A complete report for the Town of Shawangunk will be made later.

Miss Hazel M. Steed, RN, the executive secretary of the Ulster County Heart and Health Association and Heart Chapter, congratulated the group on their successful campaign in the Town of Shawangunk, and praised the enthusiasm of the co-chairmen.

Miss Steed, in discussing with the group the program carried on by the Heart Chapter in Ulster County said, "One of our primary concerns is the support of Heart Research." In this the Wallkill area has had a big part. Two years ago the community gave over $800 in memorial contributions to honor George W. Crist and Harold H. Titus.

In the past three years, a total of $4,200 has been donated by Ulster County Heart Chapter to special research projects, the latest being a grant of $250 to the Glovers Clinic Laboratory at Philadelphia. Dr. Robert G. Trout, surgeon and research scientist in this project, was the speaker at the Ulster County Heart Chapter luncheon on February 22. Mrs. Scanzello and Mrs. Lloyd Whipple attended the meeting.

Miss Steed in reviewing the development of the rheumatic fever prevention program, recalled that the Wallkill School was one of the four pilot groups which opened the program in May 1956. Eighty-four children in Ulster County are now receiving daily penicillin.

Miss Steed, quoting from Dr. Trout's address, said, "With money for research other diseases such as polio have been controlled. The same can be true in the cardio-vascular field."

The check from the Shawangunk group brings the county Heart Fund total to date to 61 per cent of the goal needed for the financing of this year's program.

The total amount from Shawangunk is $567.31, including the Walker Valley total of $56.45, according to an announcement by the co-chairmen. Solicitors included the Messdames Wesley Witherell, Joseph Kopf, Percy Mack, Robert Terwilliger, Lawrence Prisco, George Drutman, Jack Ross Jr., Charles Mullen, Edward Edsall, Robert Richter, Stanley Krome, Joseph Kazimir, Franklin Witherell, John Davis, Clare Ostrander, John Scanzello, Miss Jane Eckert and Herbert DuBois, Wallkill; Mrs. Annette Staff, Walker Valley.

Unions' Integrity Viewed As Big '58 Election Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Up to now most political observers have felt that the economic situation would be the principal issue in the coming congressional campaign and that, unless conditions improve substantially, the Republican party would lose heavily. But this may prove wrong. There is a different issue which could conceivably become paramount and drive the Democrats from control of both houses. It is an issue involving the integrity of labor unions, and it is related to the refusal of the Democratic party in Congress to permit legislation to be enacted which will safeguard the dues paid by the workers of America into the treasuries of the unions.

Financial integrity or corruption has often transcended other issues in politics. It could do so again. There are at least $620,000,000 paid into unions as income every year, and there are about 19,000,000 workers who contribute that big sum annually out of their pay envelopes.

For several weeks now the Senate committee investigating rackets has been exposing the misuse of union dues by various union officers. Many union leaders, themselves honest, have deplored such misuse. But nevertheless the objections to legislative action have not been removed, and it is doubtful whether a single corrective measure will be passed by the present Congress, despite the pleas of Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Republican leader, and several of his colleagues demanding such action.

The cry has been raised that only a small number of union officials have been found to be implicated in wrongdoing. But it is also true that only a small number of citizens each year is engaged in fraudulent transactions of any kind. The purpose of the enactment of criminal laws is to prevent misconduct by the few.

Housewife Concerned
Millions of housewives who vote have been reading about the misuse of union dues. They are deeply concerned that these funds be utilized for legitimate purposes. The recent hearings by the Senate committee show how loose in many instances is the present handling of union funds by the unions.

More votes throughout the country may be cast against these improper practices next fall by union members and their wives than by non-union people who are not affected. For it is the money of the union man which is not being given the protection that President Eisenhower and his aids have recommended shall be given to union funds, especially those contributed for pensions and retirement benefits.

Where integrity is concerned, there isn't much said aloud in election campaigns, but, thanks to the secret ballot, union members express themselves quietly at the polls against corrupt practices. Most of the unionized employees work and live in urban centers which usually send Democrats to Congress. In 1946, when the Democrats lost control of both houses of Congress in the middle of the Truman administration, it was the city vote which caused the defeat of a number of Democratic members of the House. The normally Democratic strongholds revealed a resentment vote at that time because of the Administration's failure promptly to lift controls on meat after World War II had ended. So an issue which affects the big-city vote can be adverse to the Democrats and cause them to lose their majority in Congress.

Taft Vote Cited

Perhaps the most dramatic illustration of the power of the labor-union vote when it is lined up against the union bosses was given in the Ohio election in 1950 when the late Sen. Taft, Republican, swept the state notwithstanding the intensive campaign against his re-election waged by labor leaders who pointed out the Taft-Hartley act of 1947 as being inimical to labor. Ohio union members and their families considered Bob Taft a good legislator and not an enemy of legitimate labor unions. He won by a 440,000 majority—larger than ever before.

The total number of persons unemployed in America today is not enough by itself to swing a national Congressional election. But fear that labor-union dues may land in part going down the drain through misuse by union bosses could do so. For it is the many millions of employed workers who will be primarily concerned about this issue in the next campaign.

Unless there is legislation to protect the integrity of union dues, the Democrats in many northern districts will have to face criticism in the coming campaign. They will have to meet the charges that many members of Congress may themselves have become so beholden to union bosses through campaign contributions that they decline to press for action on remedial laws. Home Unit to Meet Tuesday, March 18

The Wallkill Home Demonstration Unit will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, March 18 with an all-day session in the Valley National Bank Building. The food lesson will be given in the morning at 11 a. m., and members are asked to bring their own lunch. Beverage will be served.

In the afternoon, the members will take on a community project, that of making Christmas gifts for the children in foster homes. This will be a work meeting and members are asked to bring sewing materials, scraps of material suitable for making stuffed animals, clean nylon stockings for fillers, flannel pieces for layette clothing and anyone that may have a portable sewing machine is also asked to bring that.

C of C Meeting Is Scheduled Monday

A regular meeting of the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday evening, March 17 at 8 p. m. in the high school cafeteria. Membership committee consisting of E. Lester Mack, chairman; George Heitmann, Adrian Hulse, Chauncey McLean, George Knutsen, and Jack Ross will be in charge of the program. Speaker on the program will be J. A. Howell, who will show color slides.

At 7:30 p. m., preceding the main meeting there will be a Director's Meeting with President Stuart presiding. Three new directors will be elected to succeed George Brach, George Parلمان, and William Stuart whose terms expire in 1958.

Women's Club Will Meet on Friday

The Wallkill Women's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting on Friday in the Valley National Bank building at 11 a. m. The program will be an all-day meeting on "Italy" with Mrs. John Scanzello and Mrs. Peter T. Sowa as chairmen. Members are asked to bring a sandwich. There will be a film on Italy and an extensive display of articles from Italy, and should prove most interesting to all members of the club.

Boy Scout Summer Program Is Listed

With all seven districts of Rip Van Winkle Council contributing heavily through many diversified activities during the recent Boy Scout Week, council officials and individual troops are now planning local events and summer encampment.

Camp Tri Mount at East Jewett, begins a seven-week period on June 29, ending Aug. 23. Four camp sites, Iroquois (for Explorers), Cayuga, Mohawk and Seneca are available. Three troops of the council have already signed.

Wallkill's Troop 76 is considering a week at camp but complete plans have not yet been made.

Of interest to southern district scouts are other events in which scouts might participate this summer. Junior leader training starts at Schiff Reservation, July 6, ends July 18 with courses also July 20-Aug. 1; Aug. 3-15; and Aug. 17-29. Scout Explorer electors' leader course is July 20 to August 1 and August 3-15.

South Muffs Only Chance

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Everybody bid away merrily until North and South arrived at their four spade contract. East and West could have gone to five clubs as a sacrifice and would only have been down one trick but they preferred to take the chance of beating South's game contract.

Correct defense would have beaten South one trick surely. All West had to do was to cash one club and shift to a diamond. Proper play also as it was quite likely that East had a high diamond for his club raise.

As it was West tried to cash a second club. South ruffed and led a heart to dummy's king which held the trick. Four rounds of trumps followed and South led a second heart toward dummy. After long thought he went up with the queen and when East produced the ace the hand collapsed. South lost two hearts, one club and two diamonds for down two.

hearts was bad. True, West might have held the ace and ducked but in that case South still would have gone down one trick. His only chance to make the contract would be the play of the ten.

HEBRON, Ind. (AP)—Clarence Phillips has a wisteria vine growing on the inside wall of his home—but it's not his idea. The vine popped up through the floor when Phillips added a new room to the house. He cut it off three times, but the persistent plant kept returning. Phillips finally got used to it.

Each of Big Three Differs on Ways To Deal With Ave

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY — Each member of the Republican "Big Three" in Albany has a different philosophy on how to deal with Democratic Gov. Harriman.

This has become more apparent during the 1958 play-for-keeps session of the Legislature.

Each of the three has a vital interest in the showing the GOP makes in its struggles with the governor.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck are potential nominees to oppose Harriman's bid for re-election next fall. State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse is the man who is supposed to bring home the election bacon.

Mahoney heads what might be called the treat-him-rough school of thinking in the Republican high command. His demonstrated philosophy is—never yield an inch if you don't have to.

This is not to say that Mahoney is blindly unbending. He is a crafty enough politician to know that compromise sometimes is the better part of valor.

Main Aim, Settlement

On the other hand, Heck has demonstrated that he is willing—more often than Mahoney—to reason with Harriman. He likes to get things settled, even if, on occasion, he has to yield a bit more than he had planned.

Harriman has commented privately on this difference between the two legislative chieftains.

Morhouse prefers to play his shots down the middle of the fairway. He likes to take a political gamble, as Mahoney does, but, like Heck, he can be more cautious than the Senate leader.

Let's take a case in point: After Harriman vetoed the GOP unemployment insurance bill for the third straight time, the "Big Three" were split this way:

Morhouse Wins Out

Mahoney — Send it back again. The pressure is mounting.

Heck — Let's compromise and get this dispute settled.

Morhouse — Yield just a little, just enough to let the governor "save face."

Morhouse's middle ground course won out. The high command decided to send Harriman a "compromise" bill that softened somewhat the provisions that drew the vetoes.

Still Browsing Around

Another incident this week emphasized the difference in approach between Heck and Mahoney.

Mahoney thought it would be an astute political move to try to rescue the maximum $35 income tax-abatement Harriman scrapped in his new budget.

While the governor claimed the state could not afford to continue the abatement, Mahoney's strategy would be to claim that it could—because Harriman had underestimated tax revenues for the new fiscal year.

The GOP then would send Harriman a bill. Whether he signed or vetoed it, Harriman's action would provide grist for the Republican campaign mill.

But Heck saw things differently. He reasoned that a bald political maneuver of that kind could backfire, that public opinion might turn against the Legislature.

The issue, at the moment, seems to be bouncing around Capitol corridors.

Despite their differences in approach, the "Big Three" have managed to present a unified front to the Democratic governor this year.

The strategy board's decisions usually show the handiwork and personalities of all three. A big factor is that none has enough political power to dominate the other two.

But they try.

Spring Hats Are Lighter

Spring new spring felt hats are so light that a fellow may have to look in a mirror to make sure that he isn't bare-headed. Many of these feather-weight felts can be rolled up and packed, a boon to the traveler who knows the value of taking along an extra felt.

The trend to the use of mixture colors in felts is continuing. These colors are achieved by the blending of vari-colored fur before the hat body is felted as opposed to the method of dyeing the felt after the body is formed. This new blending method results in softer, more subtle shades.

Brim widths vary according to the section of the country. Though a larger shape is still favored in some sections, there has been a narrowing down in keeping with the general trend even in these areas. Crowns are lower, too.

Low tops in telescope shapes, center creases and flat tops are still high in the fashion lists. Smart new interpretations of the sporty Tyrolean types combine well with casual outfits, while for active sportswear as well as for motoring, the new smaller cap remains a prime favorite.

Medium colors are most popular with grays leading browns and soft blue-grays, and greens following.

Benson Forsees Ike's Veto of Supports Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today President Eisenhower would almost certainly veto pending legislation to freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments at not less than 1957 levels.

Such legislation is being debated in the Senate today.

Calling such proposals bad for agriculture as well as for the nation, Benson told a news conference: "It would seem to me, that if it passed in its present form, it would be almost certain to face a veto."

Under questioning, Benson said that he knows of no plans anywhere in the executive branch of the government to modify the dairy price support reduction set to go into effect April 1. The new supports will be put at a minimum level permitted by law. Benson was asked whether administration farm policies, featuring reductions in price supports, had contributed to the current industrial lag. "I don't see how anyone can claim that," he said, "when farm prices have been improving and the per capita income of the farm population is the highest of record."

Against High Tolls

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—High St. Lawrence Seaway tolls would discourage traffic and could result in 10 years of "economic warfare," Dr. N. R. Daniellian, president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway Assn. said last night.

He told a Canadian bankers meeting of the American Institute of Banking that "high toll rates might not justify companies shipping via the St. Lawrence Seaway."

The suggested basic toll is 50 cents a ton. Other charges en route—such as the Welland Canal charge—could bring the cost to as much as 75 cents a ton.

"With rates like this only the head of the Great Lakes would be able to use the seaway profitably," he said. He said the Welland Canal possibly would be a bottleneck unless considerably improved.

Reds Publish Accounts

MOSCOW (AP)—Newspapers throughout the Soviet Union published stories today on the accidental drop of an unarmored atomic bomb near Florence, S. C. The Russians, pushing their campaign for a ban on nuclear weapons, have warned against such accidents.

The Communist Party newspaper Pravda said: "American rulers are refusing to conclude agreements which would eliminate war danger. Instead they have pursued a policy designed to keep the world on the brink of war. They have played with fire and here are the results." Pravda added that this "criminal play" should be stopped.

Ave Declines Advice

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman said today he would make no recommendations to the 1958 Legislature for dealing with corrupt labor union officials.

The Democratic governor told a news conference he felt there was not enough time before the session closed to hold public hearings on legislation and "give it the full study it requires."

The Legislature's Republican leaders said last night they were surprised that Harriman had not offered proposals of his own. They said they were considering action but would like to hear from Harriman first.

Sets Bank Holiday

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The government declared a bank holiday today, saying bank clerks had to catch up with their bookkeeping after a seven-week strike that has crippled Argentina's economy.

The clerks returned to work yesterday under a government mobilization decree issued Sunday but their union leaders ordered them to engage in slowdown tactics. The bank holiday apparently was forced by the slowdown. Strike leaders said almost 3,000 clerks were arrested Tuesday and yesterday because of the slowdown.

Approves Utica UHF

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission today authorized Malco Theaters Inc. of Memphis, Tenn., to build and operate a new UHF Channel 54 TV station at Utica, N. Y.

The company now holds a Channel 48 permit at Memphis and is applying for other UHF outlets at Columbus, Ohio, Kansas City, Mo., Davenport, Iowa, and Oklahoma City.

Fan Belt Overheated

Firemen answered a call at 5:44 a. m. today to the paint shop of Electro, Inc., 85 Grand Street, where a belt on a ventilating fan overheated and caused considerable smoke. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and the Wicks Company responded.

Ave Approval

The amount of a payroll tax boost the GOP sought to impose on seasonal industries. Another rider that was dropped proposed to revise the benefits scale so that a worker would have had to earn $100 a week—instead of $90—before qualifying for the $45 maximum.

A third controversial rider was left in the bill. This would make it easier for employers to appeal jobless-pay claims.

One of the largest match works in the United States is located at Barberton, Ohio.

Ave Declines Direct Murrow Endorsement

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman said today he was "quite happy" to see news commentator Edward R. Murrow's name mentioned as a possible candidate for U. S. senator from New York.

But the Democratic governor declined to give Murrow any direct endorsement. "There are lots of good candidates," Harriman told a news conference.

Harriman said Samuel Rosenman, a political adviser of Harriman and ex-President Truman, had sounded out Murrow several months ago. Rosenman, Harriman said, reported to him that Murrow "didn't seem to be interested."

Earlier this week, Alex Rose, a leader in New York's Liberal Party, advanced Murrow's name as a possible Liberal Party candidate for the seat now occupied by Republican Irving-M. Ives of Norwich.

Labor Favors Tax Cut Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of organized labor told President Eisenhower today the recession is growing worse and requires immediate tax cutting and public works remedies.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and other members of the eight man AFL-CIO executive committee said they told Eisenhower economic data already at hand shows there is no hope for economic improvement this month.

Still Declining

The discussion was mainly on the question of getting at this thing right now with speed. Meany told newsmen after the half-hour White House talk with Eisenhower.

Meany said the AFL-CIO would prepare a memorandum and send it to Eisenhower tomorrow to show that economic indicators demonstrate the economy is still declining.

"We are halfway through March and the statistics show things are still going down," Meany said. "We told the President the administration should not be waiting for any improvement."

Meany said "there were no arguments; we had a very friendly meeting." Asked whether Eisenhower had demonstrated concern over the situation, Meany said "he certainly did."

Single Plan Insufficient

Meany and Walter Reuther, the auto union chief and AFL-CIO economic chairman, have been urging a variety of government actions to combat the recession. Meany and Reuther both have called for hiking individual tax exemptions, broadening of the amount and duration of jobless payments, and expanding public works spending for schools, roads, hospitals and housing. Both said no single plan is sufficient to reverse the business downturn.

Reuther urged in a speech yesterday that Congress empower Eisenhower to suspend withholding tax collections for workers for a period of up to 90 days. He said it would cost 500 million dollars a week in lost revenues, but would be "without doubt the quickest way possible to pump purchasing power into the economy."

Democrats Prod

reached any firm conclusion himself, Johnson added:

"But I believe we owe it to our fellow Americans to end the suspense at the earliest possible moment."

Mansfield said in an interview he is glad Secretary of the Treasury Anderson has announced he will confer with leaders of both parties on the tax question.

People Should Know

"I hope these conferences are held quickly and the results announced immediately," Mansfield said. "The people ought to be told where they stand."

Anderson announced yesterday that the administration will delay any tax decision until "the future course of the economy has been clarified." That left up in the air the timing for any possible tax cut move.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee, who opposes reductions now, said any tax cut is likely to cost the Treasury up to 7 billion dollars in revenue and bring on a 15 billion dollar deficit.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) was reported to feel that Congress ought to make its objective clear in the tax field before an anticipated Easter recess April 3.

No Piecemeal Approach

Rayburn and other leaders turned thumbs down on any piecemeal approach which might call for abolishing the excise taxes on automobiles and freight transportation.

But Sens. Douglas (D-Ill.) and Potter (R-Mich.) stood firm in plans to offer an auto tax repealer as an amendment to a pending House-passed bill dealing with another matter.

Both Douglas and Sen. Anderson (D-NM.) have proposed five billion dollar reductions in personal and business taxes as amendments to this bill. But Johnson appeared confident he could block any such back-door approach to tax action. The constitution says tax legislation must originate in the House.

There was no immediate support in Congress for a proposal by Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, for a 90-day moratorium on collection of income tax withholding payments.

Representatives Polled Public Opinion Test Shows Saugerties Favors Canteen

The Saugerties Youth Council's proposal for a teenage canteen for the community received favorable comment from all of 20 persons representing 18 township organizations at the council's meeting Wednesday night in the village clerk's office.

The proposal received the unanimous approval of those attending, however most agreed that a director would have to be hired to conduct and supervise the operation of such a youth center.

Submits List

Mrs. William Jacobs representing the Saugerties P-TA read a list she compiled from suggestions of teenagers. According to the list the canteen should provide facilities for ping pong, billiards, TV, a soda fountain or coke machine and could be supervised by parents. The list also suggested special training sessions for dancing and other projects.

Organizations represented were as follows: Mrs. Anthony Mornille, Saugerties P-TA; Mrs. Madge Rose and Mrs. Martha Malone, Girls Community Club; Richard Underhill, St. Mary's P-TA; Jack Pakanen, Rotary; Donald Bell, William H. Raymond Lodge, IOOF; Mrs. Irving Dreishpoon, Camp Fire Girls Council; George E. Thornton, Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Marge Wasserbach, Saugerties Congregational Church; Peter Pocalyco, Lions Club; William C. Plimley, Saugerties District Boy Scouts; Mrs. Adele Cook, Rosary Guild; Mrs. George Kerbert and Mrs. Betty Eren, Auxiliary of Lantour-Hackett Post 72; Quentin Stafford, Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company; Mrs. Vivian Barkhuff, Saugerties Jaycees; Valmore Carpenter, Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW and Maiden-West Camp Fire Company and Fred Davi of Glasco Athletic Club. Saugerties Fish and Game Club sent its message of approval through its president, Harold E. Van Voorhis.

State Views

Each representative was given permission to state their ideas on the subject.

Carpenter, representing the Saugerties VFW said the veteran's organization would offer the VFW Hall on Livingston Street for experimental purposes and dances to try out the idea of establishing a canteen.

During the regular meeting Mrs. Albert L. Giannotti, social activities chairman announced that her committee is planning a teenage canteen dance tentatively scheduled for Friday, April 11, contingent on obtaining the services of an orchestra for that evening.

Committee Listed

The committee includes Mrs. Joan Feldmann, council secretary; Mrs. Mareta Stay and Mrs. Marian Eckert.

It was announced that the council would enter a car bearing members in both the Loyalty Day parade, May 3 and the annual Fourth of July parade.

Amendments to the by-laws and constitution including one section change which would increase membership from 18 to 30, were unanimously approved. Eight other minor changes bringing the by-laws up to date were recommended by the constitution and by-laws committee. The proposed amendments must be read at the next regular meeting before they can be adopted.

The committee includes Council Chairman Albert J. Cawein, Vice-chairman Larry Campanella, Mrs. Rita Gavigan, Mrs. Stay and Mrs. Eckert.

New Member

Mrs. Vivian Barkhuff of the Jaycees was accepted as a member of the council.

A letter was read from Mrs. Edna Wach of Hollywood, Fla., owner of the Saugerties Garage on Partition Street. She offered the garage for $100 per month rent on a five year lease. The purchase price set by Mrs. Wach was $15,000. The premises was one of the many under investigation by the youth center committee seeking suitable sites which might be considered for the project.

The next meeting was scheduled Wednesday, April 9 at 7:30 p. m.

Hanstein's Only Connection Was Writing Insurance

A report by a local radio announcer this morning that Allan L. Hanstein, whose insurance offices are located at 41 Pearl Street, was associated with the Ulster Bituminous Corp., alleged by State Investigations Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter to have been a key firm in kickbacks on road oil, was denied today by Hanstein.

Hanstein, a well-known local insurance man and former director of the Ulster-Kingston Civil Defense Council, told The Freeman today that his only connection with Ulster Bituminous was "that I wrote insurance" for the firm.

"We didn't give any concessions whatever," he said. "We never have with anybody." He said his firm simply wrote the insurance for the company whose transactions are now under fire by the Reuter commission.

Hanstein also pointed out that there was no mention of his "association" with Ulster Bituminous in the Associated Press story on the Reuter report.

Saugerties . . . Gaffney Denies Any Query on Oil Firm Ties

the ballot by the Village Clerk of Saugerties for the election on the 18th day of March.

Both parties challenged the nomination petition of the opposite party, alleging that there were defects in the petitions.

There were allegations that the petitions were not legal in form, that there were duplicate signatures, that the contents of the petitions were not known to some of the persons who signed and that there were erasures and other errors.

Both parties secured orders to show cause why the petitions should not be reviewed by the Supreme Court. Those orders to show cause were returnable before Justice MacAffer Wednesday.

The agreement and stipulation was agreed to and entered into before Justice MacAffer at chambers.

Voters next Tuesday will find the names as designated by the nominating petitions on the ballot.

On the Citizens Protective Party ballot will be the names of Hugo Knauer, Gerald L. Snyder and Philip Brethaupt Sr. for village trustees and Albert L. Giannotti for police justice. Sherwood Davis represented that party as counsel in the controversy.

On the Independent Party ballot will appear the names of Cornelius Cox, Jesse Van Gaasbeek and George Terpening, Jr., for village trustees and G. Thomas Rea, as police justice. Louis P. Francello appeared as counsel for the Independents.

Surrogate Judge Charles Gaffney, former attorney for the Ulster Bituminous Corp., said today that he had never been questioned by State Investigations Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter concerning the firm.

Judge Gaffney was one of six mentioned by Reuter in connection with questioning of Austin Boyd, vice-president of the Lansdel Corp.

Reuter has demanded that Boyd be punished for contempt for refusal to answer questions regarding his conversations with six persons in connection with the sale of Ulster Bituminous in 1955.

Judge Gaffney is one of the six mentioned in the Reuter report.

Gaffney said today: "To date I have never been questioned by Commissioner Reuter or any member of his staff in any manner whatsoever concerning the Ulster Bituminous Corp."

Gaffney has not been connected with the firm since its sale, it is reported.

AMERICAN MENU

Knowing Salad Greens Adds to Their Enjoyment

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Thanks to modern agriculture, better storage and shipping, we can enjoy a variety of salad greens all through the year. The greener and thinner the leaf, the more nutrients they contain.

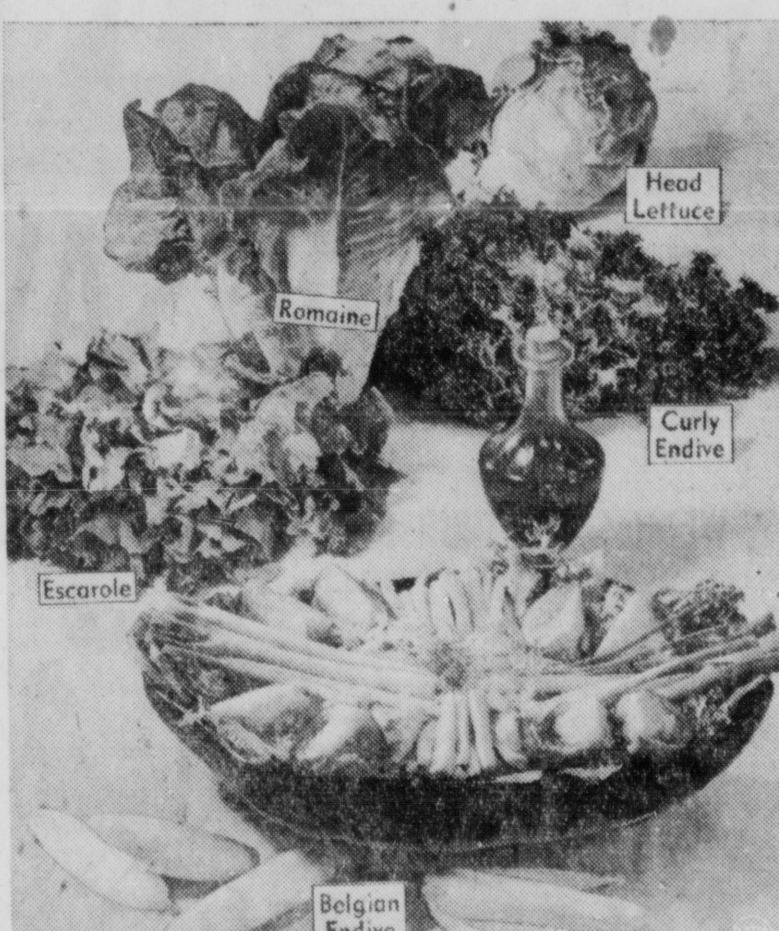

Wash at once and trim away all questionable parts. Drain, dry well and put in crisping pans (hydrators) or cellophane bags that permit a little air to circulate and store in the refrigerator.

Crisp head lettuce or western iceberg is the solid head in most common use. Buttered or Boston—soft, light-weight head with tender, less crisp leaves which feel oily or buttery. Outer leaves light green while inner leaves are pale yellow. Bibb—a variety of butterhead is the aristocrat of the family. The leaves are tender and have good eating qualities. Romaine or Cos lettuce has a firm, elongated head with coarse stiff leaves, sweet rather than bitter flavor. Cel-tuce—stem type, with much enlarged fleshy stem and no head. The stem is peeled and eaten raw or cooked. Chicory—consists of three major varieties: Belgian or French Endive has fleshy leaves in tight, slender pointed heads, 4-6 inches long and 1-2 inches wide. The thick root is sometimes roasted, ground and added to coffee; Curly Endive, sometimes called chicory, is a thin-rooted plant with narrow, finely cut, curly leaves in a loose head, dark green shading to a butter yellow at the center. Escarole or Broad-Leaf Endive resembles curly endive, but the leaves are broad and curled at the ends. All chicory plants have a slightly bitter flavor; used most often in salads; may also be cooked.

Epicure's French Dressing
(Yield: 1 cup dressing)
Combine 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon powdered dry mustard, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 clove garlic (quartered), 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh chives and 1/2 cup olive or salad oil. Let stand 1 or more hours. Add 2 tablespoons pickle relish, 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper, 3 tablespoons cider or wine vinegar and 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Beat well. Serve over tossed spring salad.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:
Broiled salmon steaks, lemon chive butter, parsley boiled potatoes; braised endive, French bread, butter or margarine, spring salad bowl, epicure's French dressing, rhubarb lattice pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Add half a dozen juniper berries to the roasting pan when you are putting a lamb cut into the oven. Then baste the meat with the juniper-flavored juices.

YOU CAN put spring in your menus all through the year if you are familiar with the different varieties of salad greens.

All boys and girls are welcomed and proper dress will be required. Boys must wear a sport coat and slacks or a suit, and girls must wear a dress or skirt and blouse.

Lou Schaefer, general secretary of the Y, had indicated that "something green" also should be worn.

Refreshments will be served. If you cook frozen poultry before thawing, remember that the cooking time will have to be increased by at least one-half.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK — "Who was Shirley Dinsdale?" asked a guy at NBC-TV.

The question was rhetorical. He knew and we didn't.

In 1948 Miss Dinsdale, a ventriloquist, received an Emmy television award as the most outstanding television personality of that year.

The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences reports that Miss Dinsdale, whose married name is Mrs. Frank Layburn, has not appeared on television in several years. She has homes in Colorado Springs, Colo., and Falls Church, Va.

Emmy Awards April 15 In looking forward to the tenth edition of the Emmy awards, which will be telecast live from New York and Hollywood on April 15 over NBC-TV, it's interesting to take a glance backward and see what has happened to a few winners of this highly coveted prize.

In 1949, for instance two men dominated the TV scene. They were show business veterans before television rocketed their careers to new heights and then— for a time — dropped them to earth. Both were comedians and in the past year both have been acclaimed in straight dramatic roles. Their names?

Milton Berle and Ed Wynn. They swept the awards that year for best live and kinescoped shows and most outstanding live and kinescoped personality. (Don't ask us why, but Berle was voted better on kinescope than live.)

50 Awards for Groucho Groucho Marx, who today is doing exactly what he was in 1950, was voted the outstanding personality of television for that year.

The 1951 awards were practically reserved for "Your Show of Shows" and its stars, Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca, who are now doing on ABC-TV just about what they were doing then. Interestingly, Caesar and Miss Coca received awards as best actor and actress that year, while the best comedian was Red Skelton, who is still carrying on today over CBS-TV.

The following year Jimmy Durante was voted the best comedian. Currently he is confining himself to guest appearances.

As the years passed, the awards grew longer and longer. Many of the names and programs which won are almost totally forgotten now. Others have retained their popularity—and familiarity.

No Guarantee Since 1956, when the awards filled two pages, including "the New York area" and "the Los Angeles area," there has been a sensible cutting of categories.

The only positive conclusion one can draw after studying these past records is that winning an Emmy is not a positive guarantee of enduring fame.

New Hurley

NEW HURLEY — Last Wednesday afternoon the Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Charles Jenkins in Wallkill. The vice president Mrs. Gerow Wilkin was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Wilkin and Miss Bertha Sutton have been appointed to act as a committee for the Easter offering.

The Rev. Harvey Noordsy officiated at funeral services for Mrs. Florence Warren Nenoff at the Ronk Funeral Home in Wallkill on Saturday. Burial was in the family plot in the New Hurley Cemetery.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Reformed Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 9:50 a. m. at the church hall with classes for all ages. The Rev. Mr. Noordsy will take for his sermon theme "Peter's Denial."

The union Lenten service will be held at 8 p. m. at the Shawangunk Reformed Church. The Rev. Howard Tausink will be the guest preacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges of Modena visited Mrs. Elwood Powell also Miss Bertha Sutton on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelder, in Mettacahtons on Friday.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma crime bureau was asked by Oklahoma City police to analyze water samples brought in by an 88-year-old man. He complained his wife was trying to kill him by "poisoning the water I kept my false teeth in." He said his 66-year-old wife wanted to get rid of him because "she's got her eye on another man."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market reversed a downtrend and moved to the upside early this afternoon in active dealings.

Industrials resumed their rise after yesterday's breathing spell. Key stocks advanced fractions to more than a point.

After a mixed opening the market backed away quietly but by mid-morning the tide began to turn.

Building materials, tobaccos, meat packers, coppers and aircrafts were prominent in the recovery. Ralls showed a string of slight gains.

Rising tempo of anti-recession moves in Washington brought renewed confidence. Senate passage of the $1,800,000,000 emergency housing measure boosted numerous issues. Meanwhile the conviction grew in financial circles that both individuals and corporations would soon benefit from tax cuts.

In addition, coppers were spurred by the first rise in the price of copper scrap in several months and by the optimistic statement on the copper outlook by the president of Anaconda.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose 10 cents to $163.80 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities down 20 cents.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregular in light trading. Corporate bonds eased in moderately active trading.

U. S. government bonds were steady to slightly higher in over the counter dealings.

Above is artist's conception of hybrid craft patented by Goddard, who early foresaw limitations of propeller planes.

Carried aloft by B-29 mother ship, Bell X-1 was modern realization of Goddard's idea. X-1 broke sound barrier in 1947.

Robert H. Goddard

'A PROPHET IS NOT WITHOUT HONOR...'

A widely known, yet at the same time obscure, figure in the 1920s and 30s was Robert Hutchings Goddard, now generally hailed as "the father of American rocketry." A professor of physics at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., Goddard first gained notice in 1919 with a proposal for using rockets to investigate the upper atmosphere. Before that, in 1914, he had patented designs for a multi-stage rocket and the first liquid-propelled rocket. During World War I he worked with the Army on a strange new weapon which years later emerged as the famous World War II "bazooka." Statements of Goddard's on the possibility of sending a rocket to explode on the moon

Havana Police Seal Off All Assembly Areas

HAVANA (AP)—Police sealed off all assembly areas today, and for the time being apparently thwarted threats of Havana University's 18,000 students to stage a new anti-government demonstration.

The police acted under a decree of President Fulgencio Batista suspending civil liberties.

The students had planned to assemble on the first anniversary of a rebel invasion of Batista's palace. About 20 persons were killed at the palace and 20 more elsewhere in Havana during a daring but poorly organized plot to kill or kidnap the Cuban president.

The suspension of civil liberties was rammed through Batista's new "peace cabinet" in an emergency session yesterday, forcing the resignation of Premier Emilio Nunez Portuondo. Minister of State Gonzalo Guell became premier. The first effect of the new decree was to bring back censorship of Cuban newspapers, radio and TV as well as outgoing foreign dispatches.

were taken up by press and public, and recurring stories about the "moon rocket" overshadowed his real contributions to science. Aided by grants from the Smithsonian Institution, and later the Guggenheim Foundation, Goddard progressed in his work and touched off the world's first liquid rocket in 1926. Several years later he set up a site near Roswell, N. M. His later rockets achieved heights of well over a mile and speeds around 700 miles an hour. During World War II, Goddard did research work for the Navy. He died in 1945, having lived to see the advent of the German V-2, a rocket employing many of the mechanisms which he had pioneered.

10 Billion Plan On Missiles and Other Arms Items

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy said today the government expects to place contracts for about 10 billion dollars worth of missiles, aircraft and other military items during the first half of this year.

He reported this compares with contracts for slightly more than six billion dollars in the last six months of 1957.

McElroy set forth the figures in a letter to President Eisenhower. In making the report public, White House Secretary James C. Hagerty called the planned step-up "another way the economy can be helped" to fight the business recession.

In other developments on the 1. The House Public Works Committee unanimously approved a Democratic-sponsored resolution to speed up federal spending for public works projects.

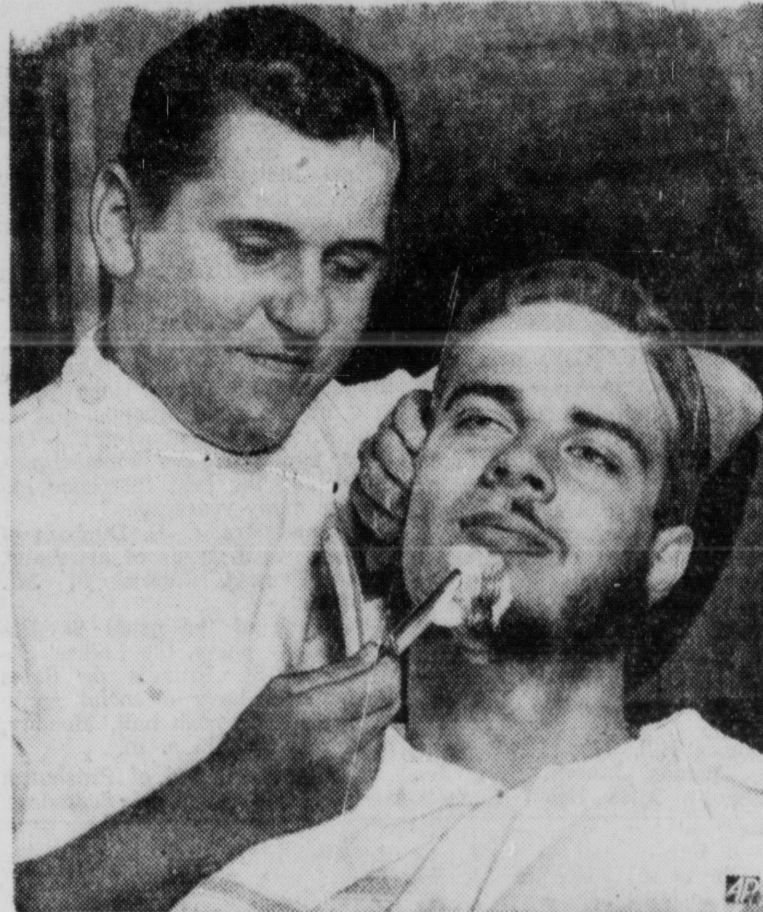

2. AFL-CIO leaders met with Eisenhower at the White House and told him the recession is getting worse. They said it requires immediate tax cuts and an accelerated public works program.

3. Congressional Democrats prodded the administration for an early decision on possible tax reduction.

Bomber Explodes, Four Airmen Die

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP)—A B47 jet bomber exploded and crashed in flames today, carrying four Air Force men to their deaths.

Homestead Air Force Base said there was an explosion shortly after the plane took off on a training mission with a crew of three and an instructor-pilot aboard. The Air Force said all four were killed. Names were withheld.

Niagara DA Won't Prosecute Man as Operator of Bingo

NIAGARA FALLS (AP)—Niagara County's district attorney says he will not prosecute a Niagara Falls man who operates a commercial bingo hall.

William H. Earl said last night he would be "tilting at windmills" if he took action against the operator, Edward P. Burns.

Under the state constitutional amendment endorsed by the voters last year, bingo games may be operated only by non-profit organizations in those cities, towns or villages that approve it in a local referendum.

No Referendum Yet

Niagara Falls has not held a referendum.

However, the state attorney general's office holds that the only legal bingo games now are those approved by the voters.

Five years ago Burns was convicted of running illegal bingo games but the conviction was reversed by the Court of Appeals.

At the time, Earl said, the court ruled Burns operated was "entertainment" bingo or part of a general entertainment program which included music and other games. The admission charge was for the over-all entertainment, the court said, not just bingo.

Last night Earl told newsmen that the same lottery law was in effect now as then.

"He (Burns) tested out his operation then and it received the sanction of the Court of Appeals," Earl commented.

Holds Off Action

In Albany yesterday, Sen. A. Gould Hatch said he was holding off action on a bill he has said would outlaw commercial bingo because of widespread opposition from New York City churches. The Rochester Republican's bill would ban commercial bingo statewide—including so-called "free" bingo where operators charge instead for rental of chairs or for "entertainment."

Hatch said he was "trying to put the racketeer out of business" and not churches.

Earl has indicated that until the Hatch bill is passed he believes Burns is operating within state lottery laws.

Under the constitutional amendment and new bingo laws, churches would be eligible to run the games, along with fraternal, civic, veterans and other non-profit groups.

Moose Plans Game

In Saranac Lake yesterday, the Loyal Order of the Moose said that the first legal bingo in the state would be played in the Moose Hall tonight.

The fraternal order said it had received a license from the State Lottery Commission. The Moose Hall is in that part of Saranac Lake village lying within the town of Harrietstown where a special election okayed bingo last month.

In Albany, Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said a village's referendum approving bingo is not affected by a later town-wide vote rejecting the game.

In an informal ruling yesterday, Lefkowitz said that where a village approves bingo, "no action taken by the town electors can have the result of nullifying the affirmative action of the village electors."

"To do otherwise," he said, "would be to fail to recognize the provisions of the constitution."

Many villages in the state will hold elections next Tuesday.

POUGHKEEPSIE

Croft's Corner at South Road, ROUTE 9, Opposite I.B.M.

Do You Remember by Sophie Milie.

I just received a letter from Arthur T. Mesereau of 501 5th Avenue, New York City. His father, the late Isaac T. Mesereau he writes, created and edited the Daily Express and he would very much like to have a copy to give his grandchildren as a keepsake.

Perhaps some of the readers might have a copy of the Kingston Daily Express, which used to be printed at 73 and 75 Broadway in Rondout. I did have copies now and then and usually when I was through with using them I put them aside but that was some time ago. I am sure I will run across a copy sooner or later. In an 1894 item it says in part: "Kingston Daily Express, Decker, Edinger and Mesereau were the proprietors." They also had an office at 240 Fair Street. I see in the 1899 City Directory that Isaac T. Mesereau was publisher of the Rosendale Journal and lived at 113 Spring Street. I remember the newspaper office because it was across the street up a block from us, next to O'Reilly's blacksmith shop. As youngsters we used to go and watch the horse-shoeing by Frank O'Reilly and his assistant. That is something that young ones do not see now. We were always very quiet because we did not want to scare the horses. I was always surprised that a horse would allow anyone to come near him with fire and smoke, but they did not seem to mind. In those days no one was in a hurry. Auto horns were few and far between. The trolley made a noise with the ringing of the bell and many still had horses to which they talked and called as they went by.

The blacksmith shop was always open with some sort of very black soil on the floor and we could stand and lean against the sides of the building. The Express newspaper office was closed with a big glass window to the street. There we could press our noses to the glass and watch the man type on the big machine, all a great mystery to us. Arthur Fronfield worked there at the time. He used to have his lunch in our store so little bits of information I used to hear from him. No doubt he told the latest news to my father before it touched the ink but at the time I was not interested in world events or even local news.

Newspapers always played a big part in our house from the time I remember my grandfather going to the Port Ewen Post office for the "New York Times" and it being in a tight roll which he brought home and went right upstairs to his study with it. My grandmother would be busy around the house, but in the evening when the day was done and the kerosene lamp trimmed and lit my grandmother would also read the paper. They used to discuss this and that but mostly they read quietly. To keep me quiet they gave me writing paper and pencil and perhaps crayons. I do not remember, but I know they told me I liked to draw ladies with big hats. When I drew enough of them I would show the pictures to my grandparents and I guess they admired them, otherwise I would not have showed them. My grandfather could draw and also my father, while my grandmother was very good at making doll's clothes for me, and especially muffs for all the dolls.

Making the Dressing

You'll need about two teaspoons of poultry seasoning for a quart of bread crumbs if the dressing is to have onion and a good amount of butter or margarine added.

Lucky Poke

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—James Gasright lost his eye in an accident and still thinks he's lucky. He was poked in the eye by a coat hanger in a coat room at a dance. The eye was removed in a hospital. Gasright is glad it wasn't his good one. The eye removed has been sightless since birth.

Weekend Events Planned by Old Dutch Teenagers

Senior Christian Endeavor of Old Dutch Church, Wall and Main Streets, is planning two events for the weekend.

A "Teen Time" is scheduled Friday 8:30 p. m. to 11 p. m. at Bethany Hall. Program will include a taffy pull, games and dancing and is open to young people in the community.

Sunday the Gordon College and Divinity School Quartet, Beverly Farms, Mass., will present a program in the Chamber's Room 7 p. m. The program will be preceded by a pot luck supper sponsored by the young people of the church.

Harsh Discipline

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Overheard in a Little Rock department store: Mother, in irritation: "Where did you lose it?" Little girl about five years old: "I don't know, it just got away." Mother: "I've warned you about holding on to money. I'll give you another one but if you lose, this, that's all!" And she handed the youngster a five-dollar bill.

Widow of Slain Mobster Making Home in Toronto

TORONTO (AP) — The widow of Albert Anastasia, slain New York mobster, has been living in the North York suburb of Toronto since February.

Mrs. Elsa Anastasia, 43, traced to a large, two-story brick house in the north end district, refused to talk to reporters. A blonde woman blocked the door and spoke for her.

Anastasia was shot to death by two gunmen last Oct. 25 as he sat in a barber chair in a New York hotel. The assassins are still being sought.

Asked why Mrs. Anastasia has moved to Toronto, the blonde woman snapped:

"She came here because this is her home. She was born here," Mrs. Anastasia was born in Copper Cliff, Ont., and went to the United States by way of Detroit in 1934. She married Anastasia in 1938.

Mrs. Anastasia's application for U. S. citizenship was dismissed Monday when she did not appear CREW OF PLANE QUESTIONED — The crew of the B-47 which accidentally dropped a nuclear device on Florence, S. C., are questioned by Lt. Col. Ralph J. White, Deputy Commander of the 308th Bomb Wing, at Savannah, Ga.

Many Korean words end in "gi", an example being that "keilumbegi" is the Korean word for what we term in the United States as "lazy bones."

Senate Approves Housing Bill to Ride Off Slump

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed its first major anti-recession measure of the 1958 session—an emergency housing bill its Democratic sponsors hope will give jobs to more than half a million workers.

The $1,850,000,000 bill now goes to the House. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) has said housing legislation will get priority attention in that body as part of the program to counter the economic downturn.

Against GI Hike
Many Democratic senators expressed the hope that the House would knock out of the bill its most disputed feature — authority for President Eisenhower to raise the interest rate on GI home mortgages from the present 4½ to 4% per cent.

The House last year refused to go along with the President's recommendation that this rate be boosted to 5 per cent to attract more private funds into the veterans' housing market.

The Senate passed the bill 86-0 yesterday after one day of debate. "But on the only controversial issue — higher interest rates — the Senate divided evenly in two dramatic tie votes. Vice President Nixon broke the second one to settle the issue in favor of the administration.

Would Cut Payment
In addition to permitting the ¼ per cent boost in interest on GI loans, the bill would make large amounts of new government funds available to buy mortgages for which no private lenders can be found. It would extend the VA guarantee and direct home loan programs for two years for World War II veterans and lower the down payment on FHA mortgages.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), chief sponsor of the bill, said it could make possible 200,000 additional homes in 1958.

Westerns Lead Emmy Nominees

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The television Emmy nominations are out and the West and Western lead the pack.

Hollywood, seeking to replace New York as the TV capital, snagged 71 nominations to Gotham's 54. Adult Westerns and their hard riding stars were prominent among the 125 nominations, announced yesterday.

The winners will be announced April 15 after a vote by members of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences—TV's equivalent of the movies' academy.

Former War Bride Given Death Sentence

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A jury has decreed death in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber for a former German war bride.

Mrs. Felicitas Nicholson, 32, convicted of beating her 5-year-old daughter to death last July, took the verdict calmly yesterday. The same jury that convicted her last Friday of first-degree murder met again, under a new California law, to fix the punishment.

Mrs. Nicholson came to this country after marrying an Air Force sergeant. They have since separated.

'Too Late'

O'NEILL, Neb. (AP) — Officers who picked up a 14-year-old boy in a theater and found him with the loot from a robbery observed that maybe he should have seen the show before the robbery. He was watching "The Ten Commandments."

NEW YORK (AP) — An interfaith committee on religion and science, to further spiritual growth along with scientific advance during the International Geophysical Year, is being sponsored and financed by the Swedborg Foundation, Inc.

Going to Europe

Pvt. Albert A. Schmidt Jr., whose parents live on Route 5, Kingston, is scheduled to depart from Fort Benning, Ga., this month for Europe under "Operation Gyroscope", the Army's unit rotation plan.

Schmidt is a member of the 3d Infantry Division which is replacing the 10th Infantry Division in Germany.

Schmidt, assigned to the division's 3d Quartermaster Company, entered the Army in September 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Benning. The 23-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of Kingston High School.

Woman Foils Robbery

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman currency exchange cashier, who is on the chubby side, foiled a robbery yesterday.

Mrs. Gladys Burton, 48, was met by two men, one carrying a gun, when she opened the exchange. They ordered her to open the double doors to the back of the cages.

Mrs. Burton, 5 feet, 3 inches tall and weighing 160 pounds, viewed the narrow opening, and told the robbers: "I'm too chubby for two of us to go through at one time. I'll go first."

She entered, locked the doors and rang the burglar alarm. The robbers fled.

Tricycle Too Much

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Letter carriers defy rain, snow, dark of night and even dogs . . . but a 4-year-old girl on a tricycle stopped a carrier yesterday.

The one-girl-power tricycle crashed into Samuel Siciliano, 40, as he made his rounds.

Siciliano was upended and required hospital treatment for a cut over his left eye.

The little girl — unidentified — escaped uninjured.

New Jersey did not have its own governor until 1738. Before that, the governor of New York governed both British colonies.

First Lady Opens Easter Seal Fund Drive Noon Today

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Dwight
D. Eisenhower, the nation's first lady, was scheduled to meet pretty, six year old Mary Lynne Dunnuck of Yuma, Ariz., at noon today at the White House.

Mary Lynne will be accompanied by Don Belding of Los Angeles, prominent advertising executive who is campaign chairman of the 1958 national Easter Seal appeal.

Mary Lynne is the national 1958 Easter Seal child of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, representing nearly 160,000 crippled children who are receiving rehabilitation services at Easter Seal treatment centers in all 48 states and three territories.

Mrs. Eisenhower will officially open the 1958 Easter Seal campaign, when she receives from Mary Lynne a sheet of Easter Seals. Mary Lynne will also present an album of Easter greetings for the President and Mrs.
Eisenhower, drawn by crippled children. The first lady is serving as national sponsor of the annual Easter Seal drive for the 11th consecutive year.

Throughout the annual Easter
Seal campaign, which began
March 6 and continues through
Easter Sunday, April 6, Mary Lynne's picture has been seen by millions of Americans in daily, weekly and monthly newspapers and magazines, as an inspiration of the crippled children she represents. After leaving Washington, she travels to New York, Chicago and Denver for network television and radio appearances.

Area Resort Owner Is Hit for Tax Evasion

SYRACUSE (AP)—A federal grand

OFFICE CAT

Trade Mark Reg.

By JUNIUS

A teacher in a New England grammar school found these facts in a composition on Longfellow, the poet, written by a fifteen year old girl.

"Henry W. Longfellow was born in Portland, Maine, while his parents were traveling in Europe. He had many fast friends, among whom the fastest were Phoebe and Alice Carey."

It happened in a crowded streetcar one evening recently. A gallant passenger shifted his bundles, arose, pretended to take off his hat, and said to an equally if not more burdened female stander.

Man—Won't you take my seat, madam?
Lady—Oh, thank you so much! I'll take the seat with pleasure, but I don't want you to stand up.
Man—Gee, lady, I'd like to accommodate you in both ways, but what would people think if you was to sit on my lap?

The gentleman was partial to the sound of his own voice and had been regaling the group for two hours with minute details of his trip to the mountains. "And there I stood," he declared impressively, "with this abyss yawning in front of me." "Excuse me," said one of the unfortunate listeners, "but was the abyss yawning before you got there?"

Prospective father-in-law—So you're the young man with both feet on the ground, eh? What do you do for a living?

Saugerties VFW Blood Bank Drawing March 20

Thursday evening, March 20, the Community Blood Bank will hold a drawing at the VFW Hall, Livingston Street, Saugerties.

It is necessary to have at least 50 donors signed up for this drawing in order for it to be successful, according to Miss Marie M. McCutcheon, chairman.

The purpose of this blood bank is to have on hand blood for anyone in the Town of Saugerties who might require it. Due to the cooperation of the donors who attended the last drawing held in December 1957, we were able to give blood to many residents of our town who needed it. This blood is given without any charge.

Miss McCutcheon said, "You can be a donor if you are an adult in good health between the ages of 21 and 55, or if you are an unmarried minor between the ages of 18 and 20 and have the written permission of parents or guardian."

Names may be placed on the donors list by calling Miss McCutcheon at West Camp.

200 Loyalty Day Essays Received

The Loyalty Day Committee reported that more than 200 essays have been received from Saugerties Central School and St. Mary's Parochial School.

These essays were written by the children who are competing for the prizes offered by the local VFW which will be awarded at the Loyalty Day dinner April 30. The title of the essay is, "Why Loyalty Day?"

"The completed essays are in the hands of the judges," said Mrs. Marie Sheehan, essay contest chairman, "and as soon as the judging has been completed the winners will be announced through the press and radio."

The judges are the Rev. Frederick Imhoff, Mrs. Eugene Thornton and Mrs. Vera Mack. The essay contest is one of the features of the annual observance highlighted by the annual Loyalty Day parade in Saugerties, Saturday, May 3.

Skunk Still Hides Out

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Somewhere in the house shared by Miss Amanda Glick and Miss Clara Schabach there is a skunk. Of that they are certain. But where is the skunk?

With the help of Sheriff's Sgt. Leonard Logan, the two elementary school teachers took the house apart—literally, when it came to the front porch steps—but found no skunk.

They slept last night with windows open and incense burning. "But what do we do next?" Miss Glick asked.

New Epidemic Doubtful

Sporadic Cases
Of Flu LikelyBy FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service thinks it's possible—though unlikely—that a second epidemic wave of Asian flu will follow on the heels of the virtually ended recent outbreak.

But even if a second wave between now and May should come, said Dr. William Stewart, assistant to Surgeon General LeRoy W. Burney, the service expects it to be "relatively mild."

Urge Flu Shots

Stewart emphasized that the Service is continuing to urge vaccinations among people who have not taken flu shots, "particularly in the high risk groups such as the chronically ill, the aged, and pregnant women."

Sporadic cases of the flu, the health service says, may be expected to continue through early spring.

More than 20 million Americans were stricken in the epidemic since last September. The peak occurred in mid-October.

Between September and March 1, the latest statistics available, 108 major U. S. cities reported 16,174 deaths from influenza and pneumonia, compared with 9,038 for the same period a year ago. Some 6,500 deaths were attributed to Asian flu, with the toll mostly among the aged.

Heart Deaths Up

Indirect effects of the epidemic were also reflected in an approximately 10 per cent rise in the mortality from heart disease during the period, health officials said.

The health service has no figures on the economic cost of the outbreak, but a rough gauge is suggested by these data:

From July 15 through Dec. 7, when the epidemic had pretty well tapered off, there were an estimated 90 million cases of upper respiratory illness requiring at least one day in bed.

This doesn't mean that all these individuals were stricken, because some were laid low more than once. But, since the average stay in bed was a little over three days, there were about 270 million "bed days of disability" among people of all age groups.

Estimates are that Asian flu varieties were the greatest single cause of respiratory ailments in that period, so the bug undoubtedly gave a hefty boost to the 150 million work days—and two billion dollars—taken from the American economy normally each year by cold-type illnesses.

The government spent about a million dollars to combat the outbreak through measures to expedite vaccine distribution, public information campaigns, and diagnostic materials. Roughly 40 million people were vaccinated.

The public health service figures the vaccine used during most of the epidemic was 60 to 70 per cent effective. A more potent vaccine in use since early December raised the level to about 75 per cent.

Survivors Urged To Keep Aware
Of Their Rights

Widows and surviving children of deceased veterans were reminded today by Peter B. Riley, New York State Division of Veterans Affairs Counselor and Howard C. Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, that they would be wise to keep in touch with the counseling office for up-to-date information on their entitlements under both federal and state laws.

They pointed out that amendments to laws and regulations during the last year may have materially affected entitlements to benefits. Marriage laws, for instance, were liberalized, providing was made for the filing of claims by correction of records, new rules were issued on the educational benefits available to war orphans, and other changes were made.

The Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency assists veterans as well as the widows and surviving children of deceased veterans in determining and proving eligibility for benefits under the laws, and assists in filing for such benefits. Persons in need of information concerning their entitlements to any veteran benefit should contact the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston or any of the branch offices at Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Delayed Payment

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—University of Oklahoma students have borrowed more than a half million dollars from loan funds at the school and 98% of the borrowers paid promptly. But Emil Kraetli, the funds' administrator, said that there was one loan that took a little longer to get repaid. "One former student paid in full from Africa—a lapse of 30 years," he reported.

KEY MAN TO THE OIL KINGDOM—If Saudi Arabia's King Saud decides to join the recent Iraqi-Jordanian merger (vertical shading on Newsmap), his action would lock up better than half of the Middle East's vast pool of vital oil under the stewardship of a strategic, tri-king federation. Although Saudi has so far declined invitations from Kings Hussein and Feisal, the constitution of the new Federation leaves the door wide open for Feisal of Iraq to step down as "senior king," leaving Saud at the helm.

The Mecosa Story

The film to be shown this coming Sunday 7:30 p. m. at the New Paltz Methodist Lenten film service is entitled "The Mecosa Story." It is the story of Methodist mission work in India, filmed in color on the field by missionaries and others involved in the work. The public may attend these Lenten film services.

The service will be preceded at 6 p. m. by a parish-wide family fellowship supper in the church social hall.

So They Say..

If we are a nation headed for the poorhouse, we certainly are going well-heeled.

—Edward T. Ragsdale, vice president of General Motors, noting great increase in private savings accounts and disposable income.

They (American girls) all look the same—long blonde hair, eyes closed and mouth hanging open. It's a phony sex appeal. Foreign girls look different from one another. There is nothing manufactured about their beauty.

—Italian actress Sophia Loren.

In 1917 the Arab nation was divided by strokes of a pencil into spheres of influence . . . Today the age of foreign domination is over for good. This is the end of imperialism and its agents who sold their countries.

—Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the new United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

It seems to me utterly fallacious that there are somehow or other two types of communism, the bad type represented by the Soviet international Communist conspiracy and the so-called good type of independent communism, as supposedly exemplified by Tito (of Yugoslavia) and Gomulka (of Poland).

—Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.), indignant at U. S. move to aid Poland with 98 million dollars credit.

Benefits Trickle to On-the-Cuff Man

Trend of Consumer Loans Is Due
For Close Check Next Two Months

Editors Note: Least hamstrung by tight money, the easy payment purchaser may respond later than most to easy money. In the following article, last of a series of three, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the outlook for installment loans.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer who borrows to buy—either on the installment plan or in a lump sum from the bank—may see little change so far under the new easier money policy. But as those who finance his purchases find a larger supply of credit to tap at lower rates, the benefits are beginning to trickle down to the on-the-cuff man.

Easy money as counter-agent to recession may have been aimed primarily at making it easier for the business man and the home-builder to borrow. But the huge role of consumer in the economy and the sizable part that credit plays in today's family budgets throws a spotlight on consumer loans.

Close Scrutiny

Their trend will be watched closely in the next two months by those charting the business cycle.

Tight money for months appeared to have little effect on the steady upward climb of total consumer debt. Only contraction of the repayment period did much to brake it.

"The average purchaser pays little attention to the amount of the interest charge involved in his installment loan," says the head of one of the largest finance companies. "What he looks at is the size of the monthly payment in relation to his paycheck."

But tight money caught up with the finance companies. They have to borrow funds needed to carry your time purchases. As the supply of these available funds shrank and the interest costs climbed steadily, finance companies raised the charges for the funds they in effect lend to the car dealer or the appliance retailer to pay the manufacturer while carrying on-the-cuff customers.

Absorbed Some Rise

About this time competition got so tough between dealers and retailers that they absorbed some of this rise and for awhile let it squeeze profits. Last fall they began to pass on new costs along with higher prices on their goods.

In January consumers cut their outstanding installment debt by 368 million dollars. Part of this was seasonal, part the shrinking of many incomes, but part could have been reaction to the higher costs they had to take on during the final days of tight money.

Borrowing Cheaper

Finance companies are borrowing money much more cheaply these days. They have little trouble finding all they need.

The supply is rising from a number of sources: 1. The negative one that business is borrowing less and thus leaving more for others; 2. The added funds the Federal Reserve Board is letting the banks have to lend; 3. The rise in savings totals.

The National Assn. of Mutual

Savings Banks say deposits in the 520 banks increased 233 million dollars during January to reach a record 32 billion. The U. S. Treasury adds that in February sales of U. S. savings bonds topped cash-in for the first time in 19 months. Life insurance totals are rising. All spell more savings—all but the savings bonds spell more funds for private investment.

May Be Fewer Risks

But getting an installment loan is more than a matter of money supply and interest charges, as many have found out.

During the tight money era banks and finance companies sought to take only the better risks on what money they had to lend.

Now the accent is different. Banks and finance companies are looking harder these days at the income prospects of applicants. There's more money to lend and interest is past its peak—but there may be fewer good risks.

Would Prohibit Ads

ALBANY (AP)—A bill that would prohibit subliminal advertising is before the Assembly.

The technique works by flashing ad blurbs so fast they register with the mind but not the eye,

"below human consciousness"

The bill, introduced by Republican Sen. Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, was passed unanimously yesterday by the Senate. It would ban subliminal ads "for commercial purposes on film."

No state, federal or other aid is received by the chapter in this undertaking, nor is any solicitation made for contributions. "The members of Wiltwyck Chapter are happy," said Mrs. Soechting, "that for many years they have been able, solely through their own efforts, to keep this old stone house, built in 1695, open as a public museum. It is visited by many people every year, coming from all over the United States."

ENGAGED TO WIDOWER

Dear Mrs. Post: I am engaged to a widower who has two teenage daughters. I am 35 and have never been married. My fiancé and I do not agree on a matter of propriety and would like you to settle the problem. He feels that it would be perfectly acceptable for me to remain overnight or spend a weekend at his house in the country, with his daughters acting as chaperones. I do not feel this would be right. May I please have your opinion on this matter?

Answer: I do not think that anyone will criticize you for spending a weekend chaperoned by your fiancé's daughters.

The End of the Reception

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister will be married soon. The reception is to be held at our house. Mother would like to know if it would be proper to state the length of time guests are expected to stay at the wedding reception. For example: 2 to 5. She thinks if nothing is said, guests will stay on and on. I have been told that this is incorrect on wedding invitations. Your opinion on this matter will be appreciated.

Answer: When your sister changes into her going away clothes and leaves the house with her husband this is the signal that the reception is over and the guests will all leave.

Strange Awareness

Dear Mrs. Post: While shopping downtown the other day my husband and I encountered a neighbor, and, as she did not have her car, we offered to drive her home. Upon reaching the car my husband opened the door and I got in, taking the middle seat. Mrs. X got in next and sat near the door. After we let Mrs. X off, my husband told me that I was very discourteous and that I should have let her get in first. Will you please give your opinion?

Answer: Your husband was right. I can't imagine why you got in before Mrs. X., even if by doing so you took the uncomfortable middle seat.

Wedding invitations vary according to the type of wedding planned. Mrs. Post's leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements," includes details. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Temple Emanuel's Hadassah Announces Card Party Monday

Kingston Hadassah is planning its annual card party for Monday in the social hall of Temple Emanuel at 8:30 p. m.

The party and general meeting was previously scheduled for February but was postponed due to the weather.

Mrs. Murray Fletcher, president, announced that non-members as well as members are welcome and there is no charge. She urged those who plan to attend to arrange groups for mah-jongg or cards and to bring their own tables where possible.

Hadassah's three-day spring regional convention will be discussed at the business meeting preceding the games. The conference will be held in May at the Granite Hotel, Kerhonkson. Mrs. Fletcher said that many members are expected to attend part or all of the sessions since it will be possible to register for part-days. Delegates will be chosen at the meeting.

The agenda will include a discussion of the spring edition of the New and Nearly New Shop, an event that many Kingstonsians eagerly await because of the numerous bargains available. Proceeds of the shop benefit Hadassah charities.

Mrs. Fletcher announced that Mrs. Seymour Werbalowsky, chairman of the old-fashioned country auction scheduled for April, has asked members to bring any auction contributions to Monday's meeting. Contributions should consist of household articles that cannot be used by the owner but could be used by someone else. These items might be a tablecloth that doesn't harmonize with room decor, or odd pieces of china, decorative items or anything else. Mrs. Werbalowsky will also explain Hadassah's version of "The Price Is Right," the exciting feature that will climax the April meeting.

Memory Specialist Captivates 100 at Old Dutch Men's Club Ladies Night Wednesday

Frank Schilling Jr., Kingston investment broker and memory specialist, captivated an audience of more than 100 persons at a Ladies Night dinner Wednesday night of the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church with demonstrations of his prodigious memory.

Mr. Schilling, a student of the memory theories and techniques of Dr. Bruno Furst of New York City, was ably and charmingly assisted by his wife.

Mr. Schilling explained that there is "no such thing as a good or bad memory"—a basic teaching of the School of Memory and Concentration of which Dr. Furst is the director.

He said that the secret of good memory is to make a "mental connection—then it sticks." He demonstrated techniques of making such connections, including the remembering of the 48 states by means of a letter process, one letter for each of the 48 stars, and a little story to fix the letters in the mind.

Mrs. Schilling was blindfolded for one of the demonstrations and called the numbers and suits of playing cards which had been drawn by members of the audience. She was keyed to the answers by the comments of her husband during the demonstration.

Another demonstration, based apparently on concentration, involved the placing of playing cards in two columns—one red and the other black. A volunteer, Mrs. Margaret Smith, dealt the cards slowly, one at a time, placing the cards in one of the two columns—in the red column, if she thought the card might be a red one, and in the black column if she thought it might be black. They were laid face down, of course.

Schilling stood beside her in deep concentration.

When the cards were turned up it was discovered that all the reds were in the red column and all the blacks in the black column, to the amazement of both Mrs. Smith and the audience.

Mr. Schilling said that some people tend to remember well in certain areas, but not in a general way. For instance, some people may be able to recall perfectly the cards in a bridge hand, yet have very poor memories for names and faces.

Some people remember better through seeing, others through hearing, others through participation in a certain activity.

He said the trained memory remembers everything it must remember.

He pointed out that all human and cultural progress is based on memory and that memory cannot be improved without also improving knowledge and the powers of concentration.

The theory that memory is based on repetition is false, Mr. Schilling said, explaining that the memory begins to wander under the repetitive process. To the contrary, what is required is constructive thinking.

He closed his lecture with a proverb which "will make you healthy, wealthy and wise."

"It is not the food we eat but what we digest that makes us strong. Not the money we earn but what we save that makes us rich. It is not what we learn but what we remember that makes us wise."

Mr. Schilling said after the lecture that tentative plans are now under consideration for the initiation of a memory course in Kingston in the near future. The course would be established by the School of Memory and Concentration, New York City.

James Little, chairman of the Ladies' Night, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Schilling. Joseph Flowers served as vice-chairman of the committee.

The Naturalists, a local guitar and singing trio which has appeared locally and on the Teenage Barn from Schenectady, sang four songs and received appreciative applause.

Alexander Yosman, president of the club, presided.

Is a "perfect" diamond necessarily the finest?

In diamond terms, "perfect" or "flawless" refers only to clarity which is indeed an important consideration in buying a diamond. But others, equally important, are color and cut. So, the finest diamonds are those that meet high standards in all three "C's".

SEATO Talk Ends, Raps Neutralists

MANILA (AP)—The SEATO council ended its fourth annual conference today with a swipe at neutralist nations which won't recognize the dangers of communism and a promise of only slightly more economic aid to help the Asian pact members develop their resources.

The foreign ministers of the eight nations outlined the results of their meeting in a 1,200-word communiqué which pinpointed the "insidious character" of Communist subversion as Southeast Asia's "most substantial current menace."

Sees Danger Arising

Without naming them, the council warned "some non-Communist governments" against "failing to distinguish between the aims and ideals of the free world and the purposes of international communism." The communiqué said because of "the insidious character of Communist subversions, there was particular danger arising from these governments."

The foreign ministers said that SEATO collective security measures had forced a diversion of Communist activities in the area from the military to the non-military field. It warned of Red "activity in the economic, political and cultural field, and also activity within youth and labor organizations."

The communiqué announced no big new program of economic aid to meet Pakistani charges that such neutral nations as India were getting more help than free world allies.

Instead the council of ministers pointed out that SEATO's three Asian members — Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines — had gotten more than 700 million dollars in economic aid in the past year, principally from the United States.

The communiqué said the programs of extensive bilateral and other economic arrangements between the SEATO countries would continue. In addition, it cited U. S. Secretary of State Dulles' announcement that the United States would put up two million dollars for a program of vocational and on-the-job training for Asian members, and the Australian grant of one million pounds ($2,230,000) to the Asian members.

The communiqué also called attention to Dulles' statement that the major portion of U. S. economic aid now is going to Asia.

Dulles himself made a personal effort to soothe Pakistan. After the final conference session, he drove off with Commerce Minister N. M. A. Qizilbash, the Pakistan delegate, for a private talk. The communiqué carefully avoided any mention of the shooting war in Indonesia, in line with SEATO's official policy of not intervening in affairs of non-members.

Other Decisions

Other conference decisions summed up by the communiqué included authorization for SEATO to set up liaison with the anti-Communist NATO and Baghdad alliances. Agd to conduct a new program of combined military maneuvers. The council also approved plans for a U. S.-Philippine defense college in the Philippines, a graduate engineering school in Bangkok and an administrative budget of $830,360 for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP—Members of Brownie Troop 63 and Girl Scout Troop 71 of St. Mary's Church contribute to a mission fund for the benefit of the Rev. John J. CELEBRATE 48—In over 3,000 communities throughout the country the Camp Fire Girls will celebrate their Birthday Week, March 23-30. Founded in 1910, the Camp Fire Girls' program of leisure-time activities is open to all girls from the second grade through high school. They are divided into three groups: Blue Birds (junior) at left, Camp Fire Girls (intermediate) right, and Horizon Club (senior) center. Judging from the smiles on the faces of these three New York youngsters they seem to think birthday celebrations, with cake, of course, are just the thing.

BACK TO SCHOOL—Sammie Dean Parker, 16, who was expelled from Little Rock Central High School February 28, walks to school with her father, Jay D. Parker, after the school announced she would be reinstated. The reinstatement came after the girl reportedly wrote a letter to school superintendent Virgil Blossom promising to conform to the school's rules. Sammie stated that she did not write the letter, but that the school did. (NEA Telephoto)

Some for Aging Limited-Profit Housing Bill Is Now in Assembly

ALBANY (AP)—A proposed 100-million-dollar bond issue to encourage construction of limited-profit housing is before the Assembly for final legislative approval.

Party lines in the Senate broke yesterday as the Republican program bill was endorsed 39-17.

Voters Must Approve
The measure, sponsored by GOP Sen. MacNeil Mitchell of Manhattan, would allot some of the projects for the aging.

If the issue is approved, it will go before the voters at the general election next November.

The profit on such housing is limited to 6 per cent.

Another Republican bill, awaiting action in the Senate, would allot 75 million for low-rent housing and create a 25-million-dollar fund for slum clearance.

The Senate gave final legislative approval to a bill that would broaden the attorney general's power to prosecute persons doing repeated fraudulent or illegal acts.

The Assembly unanimously approved a bill to create a three-member economic advisory council to combat inflation and to develop ways of stimulating and expanding the state's industry.

A bill dealing with the sealing of police records on juvenile delinquencies was passed unanimously in the Assembly.

It provides that the information may be used by law enforcement agencies in publishing statistics or other information about juvenile delinquency as long as the name, address or identification of the children is kept secret.

Up to Reds Dulles

MANILA (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles said today whether a summit conference will be held depends primarily on how willing the Russians are to talk seriously on serious subjects.

The secretary told a news conference the Russians are currently in a ridiculous position on the summit issue—that they have said in effect they are not willing to have any agreement on international issues unless there is a summit meeting.

Bill Before Legislature

A bill now before the New York State Legislature would prohibit issuance of motor vehicle driver's license unless accompanied by a physician's certificate stating applicant is not suffering from epilepsy or other ailment which causes blackout.

SHED BY SHAH?—Reports from Tehran say that the Shah of Iran and his childless wife, Queen Soraya, above, will be legally separated in the near future. A formal divorce is expected to follow. Favors New Bill ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman said today he favored a new bill designed to end the long-standing financial feud between the State Power Authority and communities in the Niagara Falls area.

The plan would require the authority to pay the city of Niagara Falls and Niagara County three million dollars over the five years it will take to build the 600-million-dollar power project. This would cover local tax losses.

It also would require the authority to spend 1½ million dollars in the Niagara Falls area for local improvements related to the project.

"I think it's all right," the Democratic governor told a news conference.

In addition to the operas he wrote with W. S. Gilbert, Sir Arthur Sullivan also composed, on his own, songs and oratorios.

Girl About Same

CLEVELAND (AP)—The condition of 11-year-old Susan Kurtz of Onsted, Mich., was reported as "about the same" today as the critical 48-hour post-operation period neared an end.

A six-hour operation at St. Luke's Hospital to repair the girl's defective heart ended early Tuesday afternoon. A hospital spokesman reported her condition as satisfactory following the surgery, but explained that it would be 48 hours before the ultimate success of the operation could be determined.

A physician told her father, Lloyd Kurtz, prior to the operation that surgery had but one chance in five of correcting her condition, but without it she could live no more than six months.

Rotary Elects Four Directors

The Kingston Rotary Club elected four directors at its luncheon-meeting Wednesday. The new directors, who will serve for a three-year period, are Clement I. Angstrom, poultry pathologist at the New York State Regional Poultry Laboratory, Joseph E. O'Connor, electrical contractor, Richard C. Tucker, works manager, Hercules Powder Company and Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of Ulster County TB Hospital.

The board of directors today will elect officers for the coming year.

Dr. William E. Askue, a guest of the club, discussed accidental poisoning and described the operation of the Poison Control Center at the Kingston Hospital.

One way to protect your family against poisoning, he said, is to keep all drugs, poisons and other household chemicals out of the reach of children and away from food.

West Camp Set For Saugerties Dartball Banquet

The annual Saugerties Dartball League banquet, series and all-star games will be held at West Camp parish hall, Monday, May 5, according to plans announced at a special league meeting Wednesday night at Centerville Methodist Church Hall.

A Virginia baked ham dinner will be served prior to the Saugerties Dartball League "World Series" and all-star games, by West Camp Auxiliary of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp.

The 1958 pennant winner will oppose the winner of the playoffs for the league trophy.

The quarter-finals in the playoffs between the second, third, fourth and fifth teams in the final standings begin Monday, April 21. The winners meet in the semi-finals, the following Monday, April 28.

Following a lively discussion of a protest filed by Glasco Athletic Club against Quarryville regarding a rescheduled game which was never played, the league membership ruled that the two teams schedule the game in the near future in order that it not be won or lost by forfeit.

In the announcement of the trophy distribution it was agreed that the series winner receive the league trophy emblematic of the Saugerties championship. The loser in the series would receive a plaque designating them as second place winners.

A trophy will also be awarded to the pennant winner, the highest team in the standing at the close of the regular season.

6 Local Persons Are Residents of Troy Jewish Home

Six persons from the Kingston area are residents of the Jewish Home for the Aged at Troy and a local man serves as a member of the board of directors, a report on the home issued today by Abraham Kostick, administrator, disclosed.

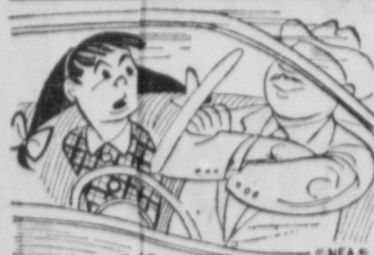

Herman J. Eaton, local insurance agent, serves the home's board of directors from this area. The home shelters 82 men and women during their declining years in the comfort of their faith, Kostick said, and the number of residents has been growing steadily since 1942 when it was founded at 366 Western Avenue, Albany. At that time 19 persons became residents.

For 16 years since then the home has been acting as guardian of the aged who need special care available only under such a well planned regimen, Kostick said.

The administrator noted that geriatrics has only in the past few years received the attention which it deserves.

"The dependency of the elderly must be as carefully studied as the dependency of children," he said. "One of the most important facts we have learned recently is that older persons must not only be taken care of, but this must be done through helping them to help themselves and not by killing their sense of usefulness and initiative," he noted.

Dress Industry Is Normal Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan's huge dressmaking industry returned to normal today as 40,000 more industry strikers in New York and six nearby states resumed their jobs.

The back-to-work movement was accelerated when two hold-out employer associations fell in line yesterday and accepted the terms agreed on to settle the week-long strike of 105,000 workers.

Fifty thousand strikers in the seven states resumed production yesterday after the pact had been accepted by the three other employer groups involved.

Julius Hochman, manager of the dress joint board of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, announced that the strike would continue against the employers of the remaining 15,000 who walked out a week ago yesterday.

Most of those still on strike are in Upstate New York and in Pennsylvania. They work for jobbers and contractors who seceded from the five major employer associations in the billion-dollar-a-year industry.

Wicks, Heiselman

leged "contemptuous behavior." Reuter's affidavit said that Ryan, a former employee of a now defunct road supplies company called Ulster Bituminous Distributors Inc., was the contact man "through whom many of the kickbacks to public officers and other persons were paid."

Identifies Steuding
Ulster Bituminous, the affidavit continued, obtained the business of the city of Kingston by agreeing to "kickback" to a former Kingston official one cent per gallon on all road oil sold by the company to public agencies in Ulster County.

The affidavit identified the former Kingston official as Ernest Steuding, who was superintendent of public works in Kingston when Ulster Bituminous was organized in 1951.

Steuding was not immediately available for comment.

Reuter charged that through Steuding, payments were made to other persons, "including one Conrad Heiselman, employed with the office of former State Sen. Arthur Wicks in Kingston."

Cites Drain on Firm

The affidavit said that the alleged kickbacks constituted a drain on Ulster Bituminous and the company was liquidated and its principal assets sold to the Lansdell firm. The document continued that Ryan "was taken care of upon the dissolution of Ulster Bituminous by a job on the Ulster County payroll."

Ryan was appointed to the Ulster County Department of Public Welfare in November, 1955.

The papers filed in court also said that Reuter has sworn testimony that "the pattern of secret kickbacks on road oil sales to public agencies was continued by Lansdell after 1955." The activities did not cease Reuter said, until it became apparent that there would be an investigation.

Two Accused of Refusal

Both Ryan and Boyd were accused of improperly refusing to answer a number of questions in Reuter's investigation on kickbacks.

The affidavit said Ulster Bituminous was organized in 1951 to acquire the bulk of the Ulster County road business "at the instance" of Steuding.

Steuding, the court papers said, received 25 per cent of the stock but the stock was held in the name of a "dummy," identified as Robert O'Reilly, an accountant employed by the company.

The affidavit said Charles Gaffney, a Kingston lawyer, prepared the agreement whereby O'Reilly reportedly acknowledged Steuding to be the owner of the stock.

Steuding resigned his Kingston post last September. He later held a similar post in Newburgh for a short time. He left that job and now, it is reported, is employed by the Walter Truck Company of Albany.

What is proclaimed as the world's largest roofing tile plant is located at New Lexington, Ohio.

Guidance Classes In Business Are Launched at KHS

Four men in the building and construction fields met with students in four general shop classes at Kingston High School on Monday in the first session of a cooperative guidance program.

George C. Swart, of Henry H. Swart & Son; John E. Purvis, in charge of the construction department of Island Dock Lumber Co., and Arthur Larsen and Axel Johansen of Larsen-Johansen, Inc., of Stone Ridge, outlined the need for such courses as mathematics, science, drafting and drawing for success in most building and related trades.

A question and answer period followed the talks.

Service Clubs Aid

A joint committee representing the three local service clubs—Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary—the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the guidance department of the high school, developed the cooperative guidance program.

Businessmen will meet with students taking courses in the vocational and business departments of the high school and discuss local employment opportunities as well as the need for adequate schooling, training and experience to secure work.

The purpose of the program is to assist students in deciding which courses to take in high school and provide information which may help them decide on a vocation in which they would like to seek employment after graduation.

Seven Courses Set

A series of seven similar sessions have been set for students taking courses in the vocational department and four sessions in the business department.

Richard E. McNaughton is chairman of the general committee which developed the guidance project. Sam Pepper is chairman of the sub-committee making arrangements for the business representatives to meet with the high school students.

The second session was held Wednesday when four representatives of the skilled machine shop category met with students in the trade machine and general metal classes. Those assisting were James McGrath of the Hercules Powder Co.; William Shane of Electrol, Incorporated, and Alvin L. Avery and Joseph L. Duffy of IBM.

of the petition the Town Board would draft a bingo ordinance which must be presented at a public hearing prior to the referendum vote.

Traffic Enforcement

A committee including Supervisor Mable, Justice of the Peace John Beaver and Councilman Sterling Potter were designated to draft an ordinance to enforce town traffic signs posted on town roads.

A committee was appointed to meet with the Town Board, Town of Ulster for the purpose of making arrangements for installation of lights on the new Eddyville bridge on Route 213 between Eddyville and New Salem. The discussion would include a proposal that the two townships equally share the costs of illuminating the bridge.

The committee includes Supervisor Mable, Justice of the Peace Allen Dargie and Councilman Saul Rosenthal.

The board approved the installation of two street lights by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in Mary's Avenue development, Connelly. This would mean adding two lights to the established light district.

Board Consultations

As a convenience to town taxpayers requiring information about assessments, the members of the Town Board of Assessors have arranged a schedule which provides that the board meets for consultation in the various township firehouses and the town hall in Port Ewen, on succeeding Saturdays in April. In a schedule to be announced the assessors will be in attendance all days on the Saturday designated at the firehouses in St. Remy, Rifton, Connelly, Esopus, and the town hall at Port Ewen.

Pardee's Insurance Agency and Van Valkenburgh-Fitzgerald Inc. were authorized to survey the insurance coverage of the township to determine if the township is adequately covered.

A committee appointed to review and revise the code governing the operation of Port Ewen Water District was announced by Supervisor Mable as follows: Councilmen Sterling Potter and Rosenthal and the supervisor.

Denies Planning Riot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Donald Rand of the United Auto Workers Union denied today that he or the union planned or staged a 1955 riot which marked the long UAW strike against the Kohler Co.

But Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) told Rand: "I think you know a lot more than you are telling." Goldwater said the Senate rackets investigating committee should get at the truth "even if we have to drag every man in Wisconsin down here" to testify.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said he didn't think that would be necessary, but he added: "I'm not convinced this big union and all of its representatives are so innocent."

Has Montana Data

ALBANY (AP)—Asst. Atty. John T. Garry 2nd today took into the Albany County grand jury room the testimony given by John C. Montana, Buffalo businessman, on his presence at the scene of

They Are Worn Off the Face

Hats take on new height this spring and are worn to reveal the hairline. We show here six hats from the nation's top designers, all of them designs that are pretty, flattering and feminine. The packable travel hat by Chanda (upper left) is two-tone milan straw in natural and burnt tones, unsized so that it is completely foldable. Upswept turban (upper center) of sheer yellow silk is printed with scarlet roses. This John Frederics design has a cluster of scarlet silk roses at the crown. Another version of the upswept turban look (upper right) is by Sally Victor. It is shocking pink straw with cuffed brim and high peak topped by pink silk poppies. The steeple roller by Chanda (lower left) is in shiny white straw abloom with brilliant blue cornflower blossoms. The little hat with high crown and ruffled brim (lower center) by Beatrice Martin is in bright coral toyo straw. Lemon yellow milan and snowy white organdie are combined by John Frederics in a tiered bonnet (lower right). No one of these hats is difficult to wear; all are meant to enhance.

This year's Easter bonnet is a confection of flowers in many colors by Emme. A giant red silk poppy is set at the front and the brim is edged in violets and green leaves.

The high-waisted silk coat will walk beautifully in the 1958 Easter parade. This one, by Ben Zuckerman, is in red imported silk brocade. It's cut with a standaway collar, three-button closing and slightly belled skirt. Silk print for Easter Sunday (right) is dress-and-jacket costume in charcoal. This is a Branell design. It's worn with a flower cap by Lilly Dache.

Garry declined to say whether he was presenting Montana's testimony to the grand jury, on the ground that the law prohibited him from disclosing grand jury proceedings. However, he was seen carrying into the room a thick volume containing Montana's testimony before the legislative watchdog committee in Albany.

Coddington Is Held for Third Degree Assault

Preston Coddington Jr., 37, of 109 Hunder Street, was arrested early today for allegedly having assaulted another man at a mid-town bar.

The case was put over until Saturday after he had appeared this morning before City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Coddington was arrested by officers Charles McCullough and Richard Scherer at a Thomas Street place after police headquarters was notified from Kingston Hospital that Cornelius Edward Dougherty, 38, of 31 Jarold Street, was under treatment for a laceration near the right eye and for a concussion. The charge is third degree assault.

Dougherty, it was indicated, had apparently been assaulted at a central Broadway tavern. The report said he was taken to the hospital in a Schultz ambulance.

The case of Charles Fischer, 36, of 22 Mary's Avenue, who was arrested Sunday on a charge of driving while intoxicated, was put over to March 20. Attorney Hugh A. Richter appeared for him in court today. A police report indicated he was convicted of a like charge in August, 1953.

having joined with the board in discussing this serious matter." He noted that members of the board were not immediately ready to comment on this procedure, since it was completely new to them.

To Submit Findings

While the commissioners are considering this method of approach, he suggested, Attorney Caddall "will draw up and submit to the mayor and his board, a resume of his findings, and a proposal for his future services, if the board so decides."

Lt. Kenneth E. Weidenborner, of the State Police, who was assigned here to assist in reorganization of the police department was introduced to members of the board. Others besides Mayor VanBuren, attending were: Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, and commissioners Ronald A. Augustine, Lawrence A. Quilty, and Robert S. Evory. Commissioner Henry Singer was on vacation.

County Teachers Discuss Proposed State Enactment

Professional Standards Committee of the Ulster County Teachers Association met at the Rosendale School recently for a discussion of the proposed Professional Practices Act which, if passed, would put the teaching profession on a formal basis similar to that of medicine and law.

Guest speaker was Attorney William P. Curran of Rosendale, who explained to the group how the Professional Practices Act functions in the legal profession. A question and answer period followed.

The proposal has been under the consideration for more than three years, and will require much more discussion by educators before it can be presented to the State Legislature as a bill.

Members of the committee are Susan E. Hornaker, chairman of Rosendale; Mrs. Anna Mae Emmerling, Stone Ridge; Miss Abigail Stoker, Kerhonkson; Mrs. Theresa DeWitt, Kingston; Edward Crosby, principal, Lake Katrine; Clark Bloom, Ellen-ville; Crosswell Sheeley, vice principal, Cottekill; Jack Robinson, Marlboro; Daniel Hamlin, Kerhonkson.

FRIENDLY MEETING—Richard Mack (left), who recently resigned under fire from the Federal Communications Commission, shakes hands with A. Frank Katzentine, unsuccessful bidder for the hotly-contested Miami TV channel that was awarded to a subsidiary of National Airlines. The meeting took place in Washington prior to Mack's testimony before the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight. Mack told the committee he can't say where he got nearly $8,000 deposited in his bank account. However, he did say the money was not income. Katzentine has accused Mack of pledging his vote to the airline at the request of Thurman White-side, a Miami attorney. (NEA Telephoto)

Goodwill Gesture

NEW YORK (AP)—In a gesture of goodwill toward the theatre-going public, Broadway producers chipped in with an emergency fund when the play "Winesburg, Ohio" closed amid financial woes. The League of New York Theatres, which represents the impresarios, raised an $8,000 fund so ticket buyers who had bought seats for future performances could be speedily reimbursed.

The unusual situation came about when the owner of the theatre was killed in a fall shortly after the play closed, and the theatre's financial setup was found in a complex muddle.

Excerpts Show Ohio State Has Spelling Woes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—To many Ohio State Unversitie students cant spel fer nuthin.

The hilarious—but somewhat dismaying—spelling foibles of today's college students have come to light in the latest issue of the Ohio State University Monthly.

Sadly enuf (pardon, enough), spelling purists should know that many of the odd-ball spellings in the first paragraph were lifted from documents that the students themselves filled out.

The report on atrocious spelling was made by Drs. William T. Palchanis and William S. Stahl of the university medical staff. They went to the trouble of putting quotation marks around the misspelled words, but here are some excerpts from their report, minus the identifying marks, just for fun:

"Students have reported on their medical histories such childhood illnesses as measles, bronicle nomonia, hooping cough, rumatic feavor and diptherie. During their adolescence many are afflicted with asma, accute apendisidus (usually followed by an appendicmy), heart mummurs due to rheumatic fever, stummach truble and toncillitis.

"As a hobbie some list swimming and bolling, some build modle airplane, while others are interested in antique cars and sailing boats. One just enjoys listening to musik.

"Many students in describing their present health will indicate it is excellent, some described it as vary good and others simple state that they are in good phiscial and mentle condition."

Jakarta Claims Oil Fields Fall To Paratroopers

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Djuanda today claimed that Jakarta paratroopers had captured the American-owned Caltex Oil fields near Pekanbaru in Central Sumatra.

The rebel regime in Central Sumatra disputed earlier government claims that paratroopers dropped on the Pekanbaru airfield yesterday and a combat regiment had captured the nearby town of Pekanbaru.

Minas oilfield, one of two major Caltex fields in Central Sumatra, is about 15 miles northeast of Pekanbaru.

May Resume
Djuanda said capture of the oil field would permit Caltex to resume operations "if the company so desires." Evacuation of American personnel from the area would no longer be necessary, he told newsmen.

The company shut down operations last Monday and evacuated a few women and children at the suggestion of the Djuanda government.

The Jakarta regime announced some 300 paratroopers who descended on the Pekanbaru airport early yesterday and a combat regiment that followed them in had taken over the town of 50,000 by 1 p. m. yesterday.

Casualties Heavy
However, a broadcast from the rebel center of Padang, on Sumatra's west coast, 125 miles southwest of Pekanbaru, claimed rebel troops had surrounded the invaders and fighting continued early today. The rebel radio said casualties on both sides were heavy.

The rebels meanwhile awaited naval attack on Padang. Two small warships of Jakarta's navy warned two freighters in Padang harbor to leave today or face destruction, indicating an assault was imminent.

Rebel troops were dug in along the Indian Ocean on either side of Padang, expecting an invasion since Jakarta troops began seizing east coast ports and islands last Friday.

The rebels had demanded that Caltex, along with other foreign oil companies operating in areas which so far have remained neutral in the civil war, cut off oil shipments and payment of oil royalties to Jakarta. None of the companies have complied.

K of C Breakfast Slated March 23, Mass in Ulster

MSGR. J. F. CONNOLLY

Members of Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus will receive their annual corporate Communion on Passion Sunday, March 23 at St. Philomena's Church, Town of Ulster at the 8 o'clock Mass and will attend their Communion breakfast following Mass at the Knights home, Broadway and Andrew Street.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Connolly, pastor, will offer the Mass.

Principal speaker will be State Deputy Dennis A. Mansfield of Saratoga Springs, a member of the Knights for the past 35 years and a past grand knight of Saratoga Springs Council No. 246.

More than 400 members are expected to receive Communion, according to Grand Knight Florian P. Wingert and Past Grand Knight Joseph J. Murphy, chairman.

The chairman said St. Philomena's Church was selected as the church for the reception of Communion in recognition of the zeal and enthusiasm manifested by the residents of the Town of Ulster in the establishment of the newly formed parish in the Archdiocese of New York.

Breakfast will be served under the direction of Matthew Fuzo, breakfast chairman, and his committee.

'Sardines' Doing Fine

DAYTON, Ohio (U) — Five Air Force officers trying to find out if they can work efficiently under conditions which might give a sardine claustrophobia are "doing fine."

The five volunteers are manning an imaginary space ship orbiting at 18,000 miles per hour, 140,000 miles above the earth. They completed the first 24 hours of their five-day ordeal at 9 a. m. They completed their first "orbit" at 3:30 a. m. when they "passed" over Miami, Fla.

Their "space ship" is a Mock B36 bomber cabin, 17 feet long, 7 feet wide and 6 feet high. A spokesman for the Wright Air Development Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base where the endurance test is being conducted said all five men "are in fine shape, cheerful and have successfully completed all assigned problems and tasks during the first 24 hours."

Purpose of the test is to determine the effect of close confinement for long periods on the morale and efficiency for air crews.

Demand 'Danger Pay'

PARIS (U) — Interior Minister Maurice Bourges-Maunoury called out armed riot police tonight to deal with a demonstration by a crowd of about 500 other policemen demanding "danger pay."

The protesting policemen had gathered in front of the National Assembly shouting noisily for an extra bonus for work in area of the city heavily populated by North Africans. Many of the police have been victims of attacks by Algerian terrorists.

Another 7,000 police demonstrated in a courtyard at the prefecture of police, main security headquarters of the city. Some blocked traffic in the boulevard outside, and others started a march on Matignon Mansion, official residence of Premier Felix Gaillard.

P-TA Votes Jenkins Memorial, Life Membership to Forno

Justice of the Peace Joseph S. Forno, proprietor of the Colonial Pharmacy, has been voted the 1958 Jenkins Memorial Scholarship Fund award by the Woodstock Parent Teachers Association.

The award was announced at the last meeting of the P-TA and was by unanimous designation. Forno, who was cited for outstanding work in behalf of youth activities over the year, will have a gift of $25 given in his name to the P-TA scholarship fund and he will receive a life membership in the local group.

The award, which was established in 1957, is open to anyone in the community. Basis for selection is a person's contribution to youth activities. Forno was cited for distinguished service in this field. He has given unstintingly of time, money and effort in behalf of the youth of the township of Woodstock over a long period of years. Many of his outstanding philanthropic deeds have never been publicized.

In addition to his outstanding work in behalf of the children of the community, Forno has been a business, service and political figure in the township. He is a past president and charter member of the Rotary Club, has served several terms as Justice of the Peace and town councilman and is on the Board of Governors of the Woodstock Country Club. He is a member of the Woodstock Fire Department and Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club.

He described discipline of the mind as the ability to think logically and independently. This, he felt, is not what education in the schools today is doing. He told of several methods of testing this ability and listed memorizing, foreign languages, and the co-ordination of two activities at the same time as some of the ways to achieve independent thinking. Children today don't try because they don't have to, he said.

The discipline of study is the control of time, said Schimmerling. How does today's child spend his time on what? He urged parents to take a good look at their children's division of time today, particularly in the matter of TV viewing.

Thoughts on Music

As regards music education, the speaker described his approach to teaching as first, rhythm exercises for the very young. Ear training comes next, along with music theory and following this appreciation of music history. These, he said, increase in difficulty through the grades.

In answer to criticisms he has had, Schimmerling explained why he has little singing after the third grade. He feels that the children of little or no ability to carry a tune are wasting time in singing and those who have this ability are put into the chorus. He freely admitted to being a perfectionist, insisting that in order to reach high you must aim higher. And he admitted a desire to be a slave driver, too, to drive out the slavery in the mind of being a victim of your environment, instead of master of every situation. This is a matter of discipline. This is a matter of discipline. This is a matter of discipline.

Schimmerling urged parents to help teachers build stronger personalities in our children by stricter discipline of behavior, and by providing a rich, cultural background with books, music and conversation of good taste. He concluded with the thought that our country needs, and is going to need, strong personalities, masters of every situation—the product of a disciplined mind, body and spirit.

Drop Bike Project

The association announced that the bicycle safety project was being dropped because of lack of interest. Not enough volunteers could be persuaded to help.

A request by Woodstock Post No. 1026 of the American Legion asking support for its Back to God program was tabled after discussion.

Plans were announced for a pancake supper in April. Henry Miller was named chairman of the committee to arrange the supper.

Following the business meeting, the association heard a talk by Hanus A. Schimmerling, director of music at the Woodstock School, on the subject: "Music Education in the Elementary School." In the speech, Schimmerling gave his philosophy of education, answered a few criticisms, described the aims and methods of his teaching, and offered some suggestions to parents on ways they can help their children gain the most from the public school program.

Emphasis on Discipline

"Education is discipline, discipline, discipline." From this eye-opening beginning, Schimmerling went on to say discipline of behavior, discipline of mind and discipline of study is paramount.

Rotron Profit Sharing Plan Announced for 258 Employees

Rotron Manufacturing Company has announced the distribution of $29,697 in profit sharing, covering the final quarter of 1957. This compared with $21,959 for the same period in 1956. There are now 258 employees that are eligible to participate in the plan.

C. J. van Rijn, company president, made the announcement Tuesday at a meeting for all employees at Rotron. The announcement was prefaced by a short talk in which van Rijn said in part:

"Before we proceed with the business of our profit sharing, I am sure you will expect from me a few words about the status of our business. The economy of the country is in poor shape and we are having what is called a depression. The papers tell us that there are five million people out of work. In our area, the Hudson Valley, things are as bad as they have been for a long time. Under those conditions, you may wonder just what is becoming of Rotron.

"The new orders received by Rotron have been somewhat declining since the middle of the year. This decline has been about in line with the average of the electronics industry, of which we are part. Although we have not been spared, neither have we been very hard hit. But we have been hit hard enough to make us do some hard thinking and to give us the slack in which to do something about it."

Rev. Todd Gives Views and Pledges Support of Legion

Is the phrase, "Back to God," well chosen to designate a very worthy effort to promote God's program, especially to increase attendance at worship?" asks the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church, in a statement supporting the American Legion's Back to God movement.

"Seriously I am not quibbling about terms and heartily accept this one and endorse it in every detail. But you do not go back to God. You go forward in a futile effort to catch up with Him! If there is any place where we have dragged far, far behind God's time schedule or any other schedule of His, it is in the things of the spirit.

"We build great structures, set up great institutions, make gadgets that enable us to see and talk with each other across continents and oceans and are getting ready to visit other planets. But we still kick the Ten Commandments around as a child does some plaything he is peevish with, set aside the Golden Rule in some selfish and unscrupulous process of material profit to ourselves, spread abroad the filth of human depravity in print and picture and basely pervert the helpful and constructive potentialities of the nitrates and of nuclear energy by coldly preparing to wipe out a million lives in one explosion.

"Who ever said that going back to God is to observe the Ten Commandments and follow the Golden Rule? Does not that road extend away in the distance almost beyond our vision?

"And if going to worship has any connection with all this, and it surely does, then let's give every serious consideration to the attitude of the father of our country. His pastor said of him: 'No company ever kept him away from church. I have often been at Mount Vernon on the Sabbath morning when his breakfast table was filled with guests. But to him they furnished no pretext for neglecting his God and losing the satisfaction of setting a good example. Instead of staying at home out of fancied courtesy to them, he used constantly to invite them to accompany him.'"

He will detail on this week's radio program in the series "How Christian Science Heals." It may be heard on Station WKNY on Sunday, March 16, at 12:45 p. m. The subject is, "Accidents Are Contrary to God's Law."

Final Review on State Dog Laws

In a final statement on dog laws today, Supervisor Joseph (Buzzy) Fitzsimmons quotes additional sections of the Agriculture and Market Laws as follows:

No person shall own or harbor a dog unless licensed as provided in the article. Licenses shall not be required for dogs under the age of six months which are not at large.

On the 10th day of each year, the town clerk shall make a report to the commissioner (A&M) containing the names of all owners of dogs who have failed to obtain licenses.

The clerk shall, immediately following the 10th day of February, bring an action in a justice's court in his town, in the name of the people of the state of New York, against each person owning or harboring an unlicensed dog for the recovery of the penalty of $10 prescribed by law.

The Quarantine Law
Section 115 of the A&M law stipulates that the commissioner "may at any time by order require that all dogs in any town, city or county shall be securely confined between sunset and one hour after sunrise during the period of time designated in the order, or, if no time is so designated, until the order is revoked. Any peace officer shall kill on sight any dog at large in violation of such order. A dog shall not be deemed at large if accompanied by, and under full control of, the owner."

Where a stray dog is seized in a town by a state policeman without the authority of the town board, taken to a veterinarian, fed and cared for and then destroyed, the town is properly charged with the total costs of the food, care and final disposition of the animal.

According to Section 240 of the Conservation Law:

No owner or trainer of a dog shall allow it to hunt deer or run at large in fields or woods inhabited by deer; outside the limits of any city or village, except on lands actually farmed or cultivated by the owner or trainer of the dog.

A related section—186—says it shall be the duty of every game protector, forest ranger and member of the state police, and any person MAY kill any dog pursuing or killing deer within the Adirondack and Catskill parks at any time (without liability).

From January 15 to April 15, any game protector, forest ranger or member of the state police, anywhere in the state, may kill dogs pursuing deer. (This due because of snow conditions and is the time when deer are carrying their young).

No action for damages shall lie against any person for killing of a dog as provided in this section.

"I expect to return to work after the Easter vacation," he said this morning. "Dr. Cohn tells me I might browse around the school before then SAME STORY...

NEW HEADLINE!

Year after year, as the report comes in, the same story is filed for the record. Advertisers continue to exhibit their confidence in the power of newspaper advertising by placing the bulk of advertising dollars in newspapers.

According to the McCann-Erickson, Inc.-Printers' Ink Preliminary Estimates of Advertising Expenditures for 1957, advertisers spent a record $10,432,000,000 in all forms of media. Of this total, by far the largest share was again invested in daily newspaper advertising—$3,325,000,000.

Advertisers turn to the daily newspaper because it gives the best buy for the money. Take a hard look at your advertising budget. Is the major share going into deeper-penetrating, more resultful newspaper advertising? If so, you're on your way to more sales per advertising dollar.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Navy Moon Project Flounders In More Serious Difficulty

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy's Project Vanguard, grounded by repeated frustrations, apparently floundered in serious difficulty today.

None of the officials in charge would comment. The Navy has lowered a strict curtain of secrecy over its space research program, dogged by misfortune.

There were definite indications a Vanguard satellite launching might be days or even weeks away.

Meanwhile, the rival Army Jupiter-C program, despite troubles of its own, pushed to the fore. Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker said in Washington that launching of a third Explorer satellite has been authorized.

The Navy yesterday called off its third attempt in a week to launch the Vanguard three-stage rocket with a grapefruit size satellite in its nose.

The Navy blamed technical difficulties which slowed the test beyond the time that liquid oxygen could be retained in the rocket without freezing the valves and other sensitive fittings.

Vanguard workers were described as highly disappointed at yesterday's postponement.

Experts said it may prove that so much work is required to get the showpiece Vanguard back into condition that a launching may be out of prospect for possibly weeks. The Navy said only that the test would be rescheduled in the near future.

Brucker said he could not disclose the proposed launching date for the Explorer, but Wernher von Braun, head of the Army satellite program, has said a second Army moon would be in orbit before April 1.

The Army launched its first Explorer satellite successfully Jan. 31, using the four-stage Jupiter-C.

In a second Army launching March 5 the fourth stage failed to ignite and Explorer II, although at orbital altitude 300 miles above the earth, fell back into the atmosphere for lack of orbital velocity.

WW I Holders Of GI Insurance To Get Dividend

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration will pay a special dividend of 32 million dollars in April and May to about 325,000 holders of World War I government insurance. That averages nearly $100 per policyholder.

Administrator Sumner G. Whittier, announcing the payment today, said the special dividend is in addition to the regular annual dividend for 5,300,000 World War I and World War II holders of GI insurance.

The regular dividend of 262 million dollars is being paid out at the rate of 22 million dollars a month.

Without referring to it as an anti-recession measure, Whittier

New Jury Report Due on Monday

The January grand jury, which has been investigating alleged "kickbacks" from road oil companies to town officials, was not in session today.

However the district attorney's office was not idle. The March grand jury which was called in session with the present trial term of Supreme Court was functioning.

The January grand jury is scheduled to make another report to Justice MacAffer on Monday at noon.

Second Red Moon Losing Altitude

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—American scientists say Russia's dog-carrying Sputnik II satellite is losing altitude at the rate of five miles a day and is expected to plunge to a fiery end about April 14.

Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said last night the satellite and its now-dead dog is swooping at present to within 120 miles of the earth with its high point at 550 miles.

That's about half the altitude Sputnik II achieved when it was launched Nov. 3.

The scientists said that as the satellite falls lower its speed increases. With its shorter course, the satellite is circling the globe in just over 95 minutes, compared with 103.6 minutes after launching.

They estimated from previous experience that when the period drops to 88 minutes per trip, it will start to heat up in the atmosphere.

Bourguiba Bids U.S. Support or Loss of Tunisia

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba today called on Secretary of State Dulles to support Tunisia by next Thursday in her dispute with France or lose Tunisia's allegiance to the West.

Bourguiba canceled public celebrations of the second anniversary of independence from France and warned that Tunisia might have to fight France again.

In his weekly radio speech recorded for broadcast tonight, Bourguiba said: "We are not truly free. It is not excluded that we will take up fight again."

"March 20 (the independence anniversary) is the fatal date," he continued. "I hope that between now and then our misunderstandings with the free world will be dissipated."

The President said he would speak to the constituent Assembly on March 20 and tell them whether Tunisia would turn away from the free world.

Bourguiba since the French bombing of the Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef on Feb. 8 has been demanding that France pull out the 22,000 troops she has had in the country under the 1956 independence agreement. A U.S.-British good offices team has been trying to bring the two governments together.

Informed sources said previously both governments had agreed to French evacuation of Tunisian airfields and the placing of the fields under neutral supervision.

Addison Jones, campaign director for the March of Dimes, said the travelling troupe would include such stellar keggers as Morris Camer, Joey Donato, Skip Vigars, a star in the recent All Star Nationals, Joey Schmidt and several others.

The bowlers are part of a troupe which has been circulating in the capital district for several weeks. Each bowler is individually sponsored and they go from alley to alley for weekly exhibitions and free clinics.

Donato Leads Pack

Donato, the Schenectady sensation, is the current leader with 267.17 Petersen points after 56 games. Johnny Walther is second at 263.26, although tied with Donato at games won and lost (37-19) and Cramer is third with 258.21 points.

In pairings for the Kingston exhibition, Donato is scheduled to roll against Dan Dailey. Morris Cramer rolls Tony Cassera and a stickout match is the duel between Johnny Walther and Joey Schmidt.

The complete pairings starting at 7 p. m.:

Johnny Walther vs. Joey Schmidt.
Frank Ferris vs. Punk Limmer.
Eli Albert vs. Bill Feldman.
Gus Horwedel vs. Skip Vigars.
Morris Cramer vs. Tony Cassera.

Leo Hohenstein vs. Larry Cassera.
Tom Dott vs. Bob Daubney.

Dan Dailey vs. Joe Donato.

The free clinic follows the matches with six certified instructors demonstrating the fundamentals of bowling.

Highly elated over the exhibition, Jones extended a welcome to all bowlers and fans.

"This is one of the finest bowling shows ever seen in Kingston and we'd like to see a big crowd out. The March of Dimes will benefit and the folks will see a real show."

But the Yale mermen, who won 10 of the titles in 1957 are expected to take home most of the laurels again from this year's meet in the Navy Natatorium.

Among the defending champions on hand will be diver Warren Frischmann of Syracuse on the one-meter board.

Bill Straub, the Saugerties basketball mentor, poured in 18 points last night as Saugerties romped to a 52 to 29 victory over Main St. Liquor Store in an Over 30 League contest.

In the companion piece, the Jaycees upended the Dragons, 38 to 15.

Straub shot eight field goals and picked up two points at the free throw stripe. He got double-figure assistance from Boo Schaffer with 12 and John Carnright with scored 10.

Mickey Kyff led the Main St. quintet with 11 and Andy Murphy rimmed seven.

Saugerties jumped to a two-point lead in the first period and staged their biggest spurge in the last quarter when they bucketed 15 points.

Mort Gazlay fired seven field goals for a 14-point total in the Jaycees win. John Peters was runnerup with 11.

John Stadancer and Vic Patience with six points apiece led the Dragons' scoring.

Lee, of Brooklyn, made the team for the third straight year.

Giant-Cincinnati Trade Is In the Wind; Dotterer Stars

The Associated Press

A pair of home runs hit by a rookie Cincinnati catcher and a statement by San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney gave impetus today to rumors that a trade was in the making between the Redlegs and Giants.

Rigney, at Phoenix, Ariz., said he was sending scout Tom Sheehan to Florida to look into some deals which simmered several weeks ago. Sheehan will be based at Tampa, Cincinnati's training camp.

Slams Two HRs

The guy who may help swing the deal is Dutch Dotterer, a hard-hitting backstop from Nashville of the Southern Assn. Dotterer slammed two home runs yesterday as the Redlegs downed the Detroit Tigers 9-7.

The Giants, admittedly weak behind the plate, have made offers for big Ed Bailey, the Redlegs' No. 1 receiver. They may be glad to settle for Smokey Burgess, the No. 2 man who would be the first stringer for several other big league clubs.

Burgess, Maybe

Burgess probably will be made available if Dotterer (.303 with 79 RBIs last year) continues his robust hitting.

Dotterer's batting highlighted the exhibition schedule, curtailed to four games by rain. In other action, the St. Louis Cards blanked the New York Yankees 6-0, the Chicago White Sox whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Milwaukee Braves 4-3. The Cards, Yankees and White Sox-Pirates games were cut short by rain.

Dotterer's second home run in the ninth climaxed a four-run Cincinnati uprising that wiped out a 6-5 Detroit lead. Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline and Bill Taylor homered for the Tigers.

Pitching Stars

The St. Louis-New York game was marked by the excellent pitching of Vinegar Bend Mizell and Bob Miller. They limited the Yankees to one hit — a single by rookie shortstop Fritz Brickell. Bob Turley was battered in a three-inning stint, Bobby Shantz was touched for two runs in two frames while Ryne Duren held St. Louis in the sixth when the rains came.

The White Sox batted around in the seventh and last inning against the Pirates, scoring all their runs. Pinch-hitter Nelson Fox drove in two tallies and Tito Francona, Sherman Lollar and Don Prohovich had one RBI each.

Norm Larker's single scored Bob Lillis with two out in the ninth as the Dodgers picked up their second straight victory. Los Angeles hammered Joe Jay, the Braves' starter, for four hits, including doubles by Lillis and Carl Furillo, in the first two innings. Hank Aaron and Ed Mathews homered for Milwaukee.

Cottekill Wins, Tillson 2nd Half Grade Champs

Tillson, first round champion, squeaked to a 25 to 23 victory over Hurley yesterday in the Ulster County Elementary School Basketball League and the win enabled Tillson to back into the second half championship.

Tillson and Cottekill will meet Monday at a site to be announced in the playoff game.

Cottekill won the first round going away with a 5-0 record, but yesterday's triumph was their first in the second round.

The winners jumped to a big 12-0 lead in the first period and Hurley rebounded with a strong second half but the first-period devastation couldn't be repaired.

Tillson will play Chambers School at Tillson today, but the result of yesterday's game will make that one a practice session for the Monday playoff.

Walt Patmore, who has missed several second round games, returned to the Cottekill lineup and his 11 points indicated why he's the big difference. Red Temple bucketed eight.

Charles Palen scored nine for Hurley and Mike Canning picked up six.

Rangers Edge Hawks, Tighten 2nd Place Hold

By The Associated Press

Dave Creighton scored all three goals last night as the New York Rangers strengthened their hold on second place in the National Hockey League by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks 3-2.

The triumph enabled the Blue-shirts to increase their second-place margin to eight points over Detroit and Boston.

In the only other game, Maurice (The Rocket) Richard scored twice as the Montreal Canadiens whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3.

The Canucks have clinched the regular season title.

St. Peter's Met Girls Win CYO Semi-Final

St. Peter's of Rosendale girls moved a step nearer the upstate CYO Metropolitan Girls championship defeating St. John's of Beacon, 32 to 21.

The victory was the semi-final between Ulster and Dutchess Counties.

The Rosendale club meets the winner of the Rockland-Orange semi-final on Saturday in Wappingers Falls for the upstate championship. That contest is scheduled at 4 p. m.

Joanne Bianco, one of the most prolific scorers for St. Peter's all season, went to the top of the scoring column again by shooting seven field goals and two free throws for a 15-point total.

Emelia Boccia topped the Beacon club's scoring with five. St. Peter's had a seven point lead at the first period and were outscored only in the last period.

Injury to Goalie Hurts Baron Chances

The injuries suffered by goalie Johnny Bower last Saturday appear to have wrecked any chance the Cleveland Barons had of finishing in first place in the American Hockey League.

Bower is out for the season with three fractured ribs. So, in last night's important game against league-leading Hershey, the Barons were forced to use a 41-year-old netminder who has played about 10 games in the last five years.

And Floyd Perras couldn't quite make it. He did all right for two periods but yielded three goals in the third as Hershey came out on top 6-3.

The triumph gave the Bears a four-point lead over runner-up Cleveland. Hershey has three games left to play and Cleveland four.

Muskrat Season Closing Fixed

ALBANY. — Conservation Commissioner Sharon J. Mauhs, in a Department Order signed today, announced the closure of the 1958 muskrat trapping season as of March 19 at 6 p. m. in the following Southern Zone counties: Bronx, Kings, Nassau, New York, Orange, Putnam, Queens, Richmond, Rockland, Suffolk and Westchester.

The trapping season for muskrat in these and other Southern Zone counties had been in effect since February 1. Commissioner Mauhs pointed out that field surveys in the above listed counties, affected by this closure order, had shown that the maximum safe harvest of these furbearers had been accomplished.

The open trapping season for muskrats in the remaining Southern Zone counties and in the Northern Zone of the state will continue in effect until notice of closure is published by the Department Commissioner Mauhs said.

Denver, Clarkson Face Off in NCAA Tournament Play

MINNEAPOLIS. — Denver puts Western prestige on the line tonight against Clarkson College in the opening game of the NCAA Tournament.

Denver is favored in its opener against the tiny Potsdam, N. Y., technological college.

The Pioneers finished second in the Western League, which long has dominated hockey-playing American colleges.

It will have to contend, however, with one of the toughest goalies in college hockey, poised and savvy Ed MacDonald, Clarkson captain who yielded only slightly more than two goals per game.

Denver and North Dakota, the WHL champion paired against Harvard tomorrow night in the other semi final, are defending a record of Western success interrupted only by Boston College title in 1949 and Rensselaer Poly in 1954.

The likelihood that Tony's Pizzeria will win the YMCA round robin playoff trophy remained an almost irrefutable fact following their 83 to 63 win over Balotin Rx last night.

The second game scored smackdab of an NBA final as Godwin's thumped Back's Cedaraps, 105 to 92.

Tony's victory firmed their playoff record at four wins and no losses.

Skip Brodhead and Ray Lawrence led the rebounding efforts for the night and Lawrence topped the individual scoring with 24 points. Joe Dallao and Danny Sandler with 17 and 17 apiece led the loser's attack.

The real firehorse scoring, however, came to the fore in the Godwin's-Cedaraps fracas. Fred Orr poured in 39 points for Balotin's, but despite that scoring spurge they were unable to contain the offensive power of Brodhead and Lawrence.

Herman Sickler fired 31 points to pace Godwin's and Monk Richards pumped in 21.

Tony's stormed to a 14-point lead in the first period and were never headed, although Balotin's almost came even with them in the second period (14-13).

Balotin's held Tony's pretty well in check during the third and fourth periods but the pharmacy five was never able to overcome the first period breach.

Godwin's had only a three point lead in the first period but by the time the intermission arrived they had opened the gap to 12 points and a big third quarter was more than enough to overcome Back's 12 point bulge in the last quarter.

Mims Decisions

Webb, Demands

Title Battle

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — Jubilant Holly Mims, unranked middleweight, won a unanimous decision last night over Spider Webb, No. 3 in the ratings, and immediately demanded a title fight.

He wants to meet the winner of the Carmen Basilio-Sugar Ray Robinson title bout in Chicago March 25.

The 29-year-old Mims, a veteran of 65 professional bouts and once ranked No. 3 middleweight, said he wasn't interested in meeting anybody but the champion.

The Washington, D. C., fighter, beaten 15 times but never knocked out, started a comeback Jan. 22, by fighting to a draw with Bobby Boyd, the No. 8 ranking middleweight, at Miami Beach.

Mims was the aggressor all the way in last night's nationally televised bout. He floored the 26-year-old Chicago fighter with a flurry of punches in the sixth round for a nine-count. Webb suffered a cut over the left eye but it didn't seem to bother him. He fought back vigorously after the knockdown. He said later he was off balance when he was knocked down.

Webb, supposedly headed for a title bout in the near future, was bitterly disappointed by the defeat, his third in 29 fights, and said he thought he won.

Webb weighed 157½ to 154½ for Mims.

NIT Joins Tourney Line Tonight With Two Games

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Basketball's March madness reaches its whackiest peak tonight with the NIT busting in on the NCAA big college, NCAA small college, and the NAIA in the alphabetical battle for national tournament honors.

Semi-Final

The National Invitation Tournament, a 12-team affair that runs in skips and hops at New York's Madison Square Garden until March 22, opens with two of four first-round games. St. John's of New York (16-6) faces Butler (16-9) in the opener followed by St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (17-8) against St. Peter's of New Jersey (24-3).

The National Collegiate Tournament for small colleges reaches the semifinal stage at Evansville, Ind., with defending champion Wheaton of Illinois playing South Dakota (the same club it bounced in the semis a year ago), and host Evansville meeting St. Michael's of Vermont.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Tournament at Kansas City heads into the quarterfinals with these pairings: Tennessee State vs East Texas, Western Illinois vs Youngstown (Ohio), Coe (Iowa) vs Texas Southern, and West Virginia Wesleyan vs Georgetown (Ky.).

And the National Collegiate Tournament for the big schools, underway since Monday, regroup for regionals at Charlotte, N. C., Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco starting tomorrow after Idaho State and Seattle won the last of the first-round games.

Baylor Again

Seattle, with All-America Elgin Baylor scoring 26 points and dabbling in playmaking too, crushed Wyoming's Skyline Conference champions 88-51 in the second game of a doubleheader at Berkeley, Calif. Idaho State's Rocky Mountain champions downed the Border champs, Arizona State of Tempe, 72-68, in the first game with the winners advancing to the Far West NCAA regional at San Francisco Friday night.

Baylor's Friday night, Baylor's 26 points dipped his season average to 33.3 compared to 34.5 for Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, the national leader.

Friday, Seattle plays San Francisco and Idaho State faces California.

All set for Friday's other big NCAA games are Maryland vs Temple and Manhattan vs Dartmouth at Charlotte, Kentucky vs Miami of Ohio and Notre Dame vs Indiana at Lexington, Ky., and Oklahoma State vs Arkansas and (the one everybody's waiting to see) Cincinnati vs Kansas State at Lawrence, Kan.

Dayton Top-Seeded

Dayton is top-seeded and Bradley, the defending champ, is seeded second in the NIT, which completes its first round and starts its quarterfinals in day and night doubleheaders on Saturday. Play continues next Tuesday and Thursday before the finals on Saturday afternoon, March 22.

In the NCAA small college feature tonight, two long winning streaks will collide when Wheaton's titlists face South Dakota. Wheaton made it 22 in a row and 27-1 for the season with an 81-64 victory over Chapman of California last night while South Dakota (20-5) won its 18th straight, 36-58 over Southwest Missouri. In other quarter-final games at Evansville, host Evansville pulled away in the final 10 minutes to topple American U. 82-72 and St. Michael's, hitting 52 percent from the floor, upset Grambling of Louisiana 84-76.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12 (AP) — Rain today caused postponement of the Philadelphia-Kansas City exhibition baseball game after the Athletics had

Casper Beats Ken Venturi On 30-Footer

NEW ORLEANS. — A putt that rolled "roughly 30 feet" gave Billy Casper victory over Ken Venturi in a sudden-death playoff for the $20,000 New Orleans Open golf title.

The pudgy Casper, who plays out of Apple Valley, Calif., dropped the putt on the second hole of the rain-plattered playoff yesterday morning.

Casper and Venturi, a slim stylist from San Francisco, were tied at 278 at the end of 72 holes Tuesday. They were to have met in an 18-hole playoff, but an early morning downpour necessitated the sudden death.

Both matched par with fours on the first hole and each whacked a good drive on the second. Casper's approach shot landed on the edge of the green while Venturi's four-iron approach was wide and landed in a trap.

Venturi pitched out to within two feet of the cup in a dazzling recovery, but Casper brought things to a close when his 30-footer was right on target for an eagle three on the 477-yard par-5 hole.

The victory was worth $2,800 to Casper, who won the Crosby Invitational in January.

Venturi, only three-time winner on the winter tour, collected $1,900.

Saugerties Tops Woodstock, 92-79

The Woodstock Varsity correspondent in reporting Friday night's loss to the Saugerties Five reported tersely: "We stunk".

A close perusal of the box-score reveals substantial evidence to support his observation. The Saugerties cagers romped to an easy 92-79 victory over the VS.

With Talmadge and Hanna sparking the attack, Saugerties jumped off to a 29-15 lead in the first quarter and led 50-31 at the half. The V's made their best showing with a belated 24-point spurt in the final quarter.

Talmadge paced Saugerties with 24 points. Hanna scored 20 to tie with Bill Waterous, the Woodstock leader. Herbie Waterous potted 18 points, Ken Wilson 12 and Carl Van Wagenen 13 for the Varsity.

The Ulster-Sullivan Building Trades Council — representing 16 different trade unions — voted unanimously this week in favor of the proposed Greater Kingston Area Consolidation.

Kingston will vote on the proposed consolidation with 25 outlying school districts on April 2. The rural districts voted three to one in favor of consolidation in referendum late last month.

It was the consensus of the Council that even if consolidation should cost a few dollars more it was in favor of a system that would provide better education for children of the area.

Puerto Rico-Bound

Leopold Out After Long Prison Term

JOLIET, Ill. — Nathan Leopold, who served 33½ years in prison for a bobbled effort to commit a perfect murder, walked to freedom today determined to become a perfect example of prison rehabilitation.

Leopold waved his hat as he stepped through the gates of the administration building. He was surrounded immediately by newsmen.

Few on Hand

There were few townspeople from nearby Joliet on hand as Leopold ended his long prison sentence.

Leopold was escorted to the prison gate by Warden Joseph Ragen. He walked slowly, almost casually.

Immediate plans are for him to fly to Puerto Rico for a $10-a-month job as a laboratory worker in a mission hospital. The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board yesterday approved Leopold's request to take the job, thus authorizing his release on parole for five years. He was officially granted the parole last month but his release was delayed pending investigation of job offers.

Like Any Other

Warden Joseph Ragen, said the release of Leopold, one of the nation's most publicized convicts, would be "like that of any other prisoner."

"He'll have a prison made suit and $15 in cash when he steps from the gate," Ragen said. It was in 1924 that Leopold, son of a wealthy Chicago family, and Richard Loeb, his fellow University of Chicago student, committed what they thought was the "perfect crime"—the murder of a neighbor boy, 14-year-old Bobby Franks.

With terrifying coldness they worked out the details of their crime. They abducted Bobby near a playground; beat him to death with a heavy chisel and stuffed his body in a culvert.

Their trial, with the famed Clarence Darrow in the defense, and Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, leading the prosecution, was a rough and tumble affair.

Crowe demanded the death penalty. Darrow pleaded "for a time when hatred and cruelty will not control the hearts of men." Darrow won the court fight and on Sept. 11, 1924, Leopold and Loeb went to prison for life on the charge of murder and 99 years for kidnaping. Loeb died in 1936 in a fight with another inmate.

'Model Prisoner'

Leopold, now 53, was what prison officials termed a "model prisoner." He served as a guinea pig in wartime malaria experiments, established a correspondence school for convicts, reorganized the prison library and worked in the prison hospital.

Aided by an intellectual level far above that of a genius, Leopold mastered more than a score of languages. He corresponded with many of the world's leading intellectuals.

Leopold has hinted these achievements were the results of his battle to keep from going "stir crazy."

Prison officials, took them as evidence Leopold truly was a rehabilitated prisoner. Many of the intellectuals with whom he corresponded rallied to his defense. Among them was poet Carl Sandburg.

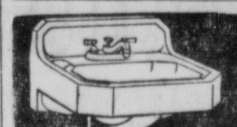

On Feb. 20, the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board in a split vote gave Leopold the freedom for which he unsuccessfully petitioned four times previously.

Despite the small salary he will receive in Puerto Rico, it is unlikely Leopold will suffer financial hardship. He will have a $2,000 yearly income from a $50,000 trust fund and a legacy from an aunt totaling between $10,000 and $11,000.

In addition, it is expected he will receive royalties from a book he wrote about his prison life.
